WILDY'S BOOK NEWS

Volume 19 Issue 9 Published Monthly

Sept/Oct 2014

Our shop turns up in many films but we have had something a bit different this month. Ian McEwan's excellent new novel, The Children Act, is mainly set in the legal district of London and mentions Wildy's bookshop a couple of times.

The student season is well underway and our website has been particularly popular this year. As usual there are plenty of new editions and new titles published to coincide with the start of term. We usually claim over 7,800 titles in stock but we are probably over 10,000 titles at the moment.

The size of our stockholding sets us apart from all other suppliers.

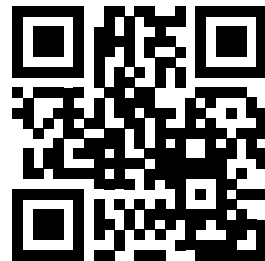

We offer access to literally thousands of ebooks through our website and this month we have a special piece on ebooks on pp 28-29.

You may have heard that there are a lot of possible changes in subscriptions management agencies at the moment. There are no changes here however. We have been providing informed and professional management of subscriptions since 1830.

OXFORD
UNIVERSITY PRESS

Hello and welcome to the first of what will be a monthly excursion in the world of eBooks. My plan is to highlight some of the more important titles that have either just been published or are due in the coming months. I will also try to provide information on any major developments in this ever-changing e-world.

The last quarter is always a busy time in Criminal Law publishing. The Archbold eBook has been a great success over the past couple of years and I can see this becoming more and more popular. For anyone that has got to the point where the print version is no longer vital you will be pleased to know that the eBook is only £395 (+VAT) this year. However, I suspect that most users will still want the book & eBook pack at £605 (+VAT).

<https://www.wildy.com/isbn/9780414035980>

Another important Criminal title that works well as an eBook is David Thomas' Sentencing Referencer. This is an ideal title to have on your iPad so that the information you require is always to hand. The 2015 edition is due in December.

There are a few big Banking titles due before the end of the year. However none are more important than Paget's Law of Banking. This is the first new edition since 2007 and is the first to be available as an eBook. This new edition has been totally restructured by a new author team and is bound to become the definitive text in this area.

For when you need information now

The guys at the Common Law Library have been busy over the past couple of months. We have recently had the eBooks of the new editions of McGregor on Damages, Charlesworth & Percy on Negligence and we have the new editions of Bowstead & Reynolds On Agency, Clerk & Lindsell On Torts and Benjamin's Sale of Goods before the end of the year. All of these are produced in the Sweet & Maxwell's ProView format and are also available as book & eBooks packs.

Finally, I would like to highlight one of my favourite titles from the past couple of years. Hilary Heilbron's biography of her mother, Rose Heilbron, the first woman Queen's Counsel and the first woman Judge in England, has been a runaway bestseller for us and is now available as an eBook. A fascinating read and ideal for the train journey home!

As always, we are here to answer any questions that you may have regarding how eBooks will work you for and we aim to maintain the Wildy ethos of having someone at the end of the phone or e-mail if help is needed.

Graham

SMALL CLAIMS PROCEDURE IN THE COUNTY COURT A Practical Guide to Mediation and Litigation 6th ed

Patricia Pearl and Christopher Dodd

Price: £19.99
ISBN: 9780854901425
Extent: 332 pp
Binding: Paperback

Legal professionals rarely receive any formal training or guidance on how to run a small claims case in the county court, while litigants in person often have to conduct such cases without legal representation. A lack of understanding of the rules frequently leads to confusion and mistakes, which in turn adds to expense and causes delay. The sixth edition of this well-established book includes everything which a professional advisor or one off court user needs to be confident and successful with pursuing or defending a claim allocated to the small claims track in the county court.

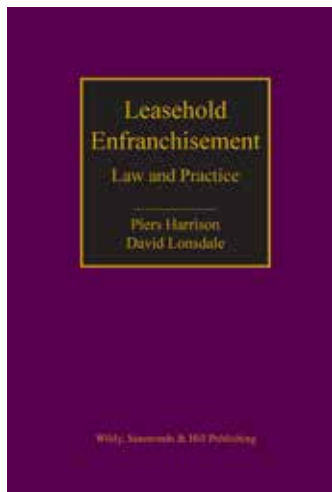

Small Claims in the County Court has been updated to take into account a large number of changes in procedure and rules over the last two years, including the increase in jurisdiction to £10,000, the introduction of the single county court and new rules and terminology concerning enforcement.

The authors demystify a process which can be overwhelming to court users. The book includes summaries of key rules and procedures and more detailed text follows. There are checklists to guide users through key stages of a court case and answers to frequently asked questions. The glossary is an invaluable tool for any court user who is unfamiliar with legal jargon. The authors have added all necessary case and rule citations and there is a full index. Key court rules plus up to date court fees are reproduced at the back of the book.

Written by authors with experience as a solicitor and a barrister but also with over 20 years combined experience as judges, this popular title will prove invaluable for busy practitioners and litigants in person alike, equipping them with the latest know-how on avoiding errors and making the most of the procedures that are available.

LEASEHOLD ENFRANCHISEMENT LAW AND PRACTICE

Piers Harrison and David Lonsdale

Price: £95.00
ISBN: 9780854900657
Extent: 374 pp
Binding: Hardback

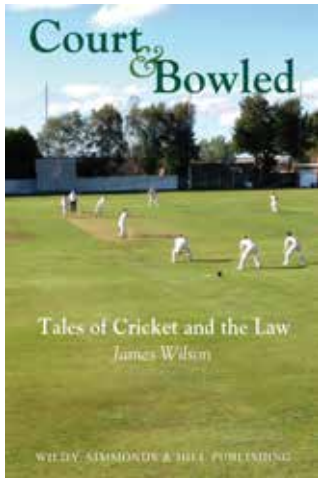

This practical book is written with the busy practitioner in mind, explaining the law in clear and simple terms and concentrating heavily on procedure. The procedural chapters make up the greater part of the book and are designed to ensure that the practitioner drafts notices without mistakes and understands the critical time limits.

Leasehold Enfranchisement contains checklists of mistakes to be avoided in the preparation of notices and clear guidance on procedure post service of the notice. The book enables the reader to find essential information easily.

Fully up to date with the new procedural rules, Leasehold Enfranchisement includes the latest forms published by the First-tier Tribunal. It is accessible and practical, providing guidance on filling in notices, and checklists of common mistakes to be avoided. The authors provide plenty of detail on how to accomplish the main task for a solicitor in this area. The book also tackles valuation in a way that a non-valuer can understand so that the solicitor understands the valuation exercise.

Piers' property practice covers all areas of property law and clients include property development companies, local authorities, government agencies and private companies and individuals. He is an editor of Landlord and Tenant Review. He has a particular interest in enfranchisement but his practice encompasses all areas of the law of real property. He is author of Service Charges & Management (3rd ed) and Megarry's Manual of the Law of Real Property (9th ed).

David Lonsdale has over twenty years' advocacy and advisory experience at all levels up to the Court of Appeal, including specialist tribunals such as the First Tier Tribunal. David's areas of particular specialisation are leasehold enfranchisement, restrictive covenants and forfeiture of commercial leases, but he accepts instructions across the range of Property law disputes as well as appearing and advising on cases in related fields such as professional negligence and insolvency. David is instructed by client companies with an international presence as well as local authorities, managing agents and individuals.

COURT AND BOWLED:
Tales of Cricket and the Law

James Wilson

Price: £19.99
ISBN: 9780854901401
Extent: 368 pp
Binding: Hardback

‘In summertime village cricket is the delight of everyone’ the English judge Lord Denning famously wrote, in a case brought by someone who clearly disagreed with him.

The case was but one example of how the game of cricket cannot always avoid the law. Neighbours or passers-by get hit by stray cricket balls, protesters interrupt matches, players get into fights or take drugs, and not a few involved with the game sue each other for libel.

This book looks at a number of stories where cricket or cricketers gave rise to a legal dispute. It begins with a short history of cricket as it appears in the early law reports, including the case from 1598 which contains the very first known use of the word “cricket”. It then turns to individual cases from Victorian times to the present day.

Some of the disputes have been of fundamental importance to the game itself. The ruling in Bolton v Stone affected village and indeed impromptu cricketers everywhere, while if Kerry Packer had lost his High Court action in 1978, his cricket revolution would have been over before a ball had been bowled.

Other cases raise issues going well beyond the boundary ropes: Basil D’Oliveira’s omission by England from a tour of South Africa, for example, ended up being considered in the highest echelons of power in both countries.

All of the stories demonstrate something common to both cricket matches and court cases: behind the intrigue, entertainment and amusement of both there are real people and real human stories, with all the usual human emotions and fallibility.

The book will be of interest not only to cricket fans or lawyers but anyone interested in tales of high (and low) human drama and great ethical, moral and legal dilemmas.

James worked in commercial litigation in New Zealand and in London before joining LexisNexis and is the author of Cases, Causes and Controversies: Fifty Tales from the Law (Wildy, Simmonds & Hill Publishing) as well as numerous law journal articles.

ON THE ESSENCE OF LEGAL CONSCIOUSNESS

Ivan Aleksandrovich Il'in

Edited, Introduced, and Translated by

William E. Butler

Philip T. Grier

Vladimir A. Tomsinov

Studies in Russian & East European Law Series

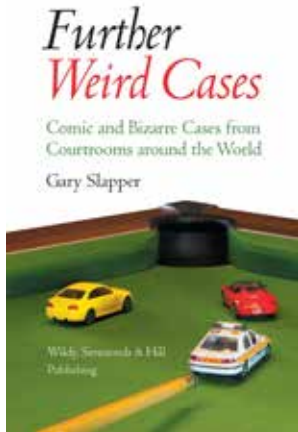

Price: £65.00
ISBN: 9780854901463
Extent: 402 pp
Binding: Hardback

Ivan Aleksandrovich Il'in (1883-1954) has become in post-Soviet Russia one of the most eminent legal philosophers of the twentieth century. This volume brings to an international readership for the first time what is perhaps the most impassioned and prescient work by a Russian jurist in support of the rule of law.

Il'in has heretofore been accessible only to those who have a command of Russian, German, or, exceptionally French, and even then primarily in circles where Russian émigré literature circulated. Originally written and in galley proofs between 1916 and 1919, the final work on legal consciousness was not published until 1956 in Germany and only in the 1990s in Russia, where it has generated considerable impact. Il'in's most original and influential contribution to legal theory, this long-awaited English translation will inform discussions of legal consciousness for decades to come.

Il'in's monograph is accompanied by one of his early and influential articles on concepts of law and power and by essays devoted to Il'in and the rule of law; the origin and transformations of the concept of legal consciousness, and the origins of Il'in's treatise on legal consciousness, a glossary of key legal terms, and a bibliography of works by or devoted to Il'in.

FURTHER WEIRD CASES
Comic and Bizarre Cases from Courtrooms
around the World

Gary Slapper

Price: £11.95
ISBN: 9780854901340
Extent: 178 pp
Binding: Hardback

This book, the third in a series, provides another instalment of extraordinary cases from around the world. Based on the author's popular Times Online column, Further Weird Cases draws on cases and stories from many countries, including the UK, USA, Canada, Australia, New Zealand, Germany, Mexico, Italy, Japan, Romania, and China and contains a great variety of shockingly strange and entertaining courtroom dramas.

The cases featured in Further Weird Cases are those that truly stand out as odd, even among all the unusual dramas that challenge the courts: a man from Florida who had his hand bitten off by an alligator who was then convicted of “illegally feeding an alligator”; a man imprisoned for 50 years for sealing a packet of pork ribs; two men in Italy who broke the law by dying in a place where it was illegal to die; the case in Scotland that collapsed when a dog due to give evidence died before the trial; a case in Brazil in which an election candidate had tried to gain votes by including a free sample of cocaine with each election leaflet; a case determining whether it is theft for a shopper to go to the ‘free sample’ counter of meat in a supermarket, fill two bags with the samples, and exit; and what happened to the defendant who urinated in the judge's waste paper bin. These further weird cases are organised in themed chapters related to topics such as, sex and love, food and drink, unusual punishments, pets and animals, and driving.

This book is a highly entertaining read for anyone who enjoys reading about the more bizarre aspects of human life that fetch up in the law courts at the beginning of the 21st century.

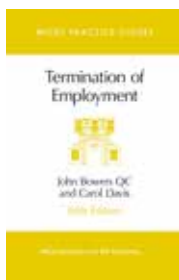

Gary Slapper is Global Professor, New York University, and Director of New York University, London. He is a Visiting Professor of Law at the Chinese University of Hong Kong, and The Open University, UK. He is Law columnist for The Times online, and Door Tenant at 36 Bedford Row. Professor Slapper is also a legal consultant to BBC drama and documentaries.
