WILDY'S BOOK NEWS

Volume 22 Issue 10 Published Monthly

Oct/Nov 2017

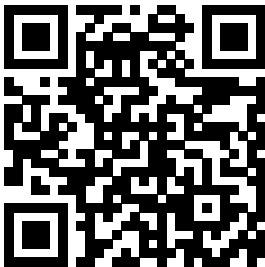

Plenty of news from our publishing arm this month. New editions of Step by Step Guide to Wills & Probate, The Single Family Court and Corporate Insolvency (see pp 32-34). Also published this month will be Turkey and the International Law of the Sea and The Uppsala Yearbook on Eurasian Studies II which includes an English translation of the new constitution for the Crimea.

John Eaton gives an interesting account of his attendance at the International Association of Law Libraries conference in Atlanta, Georgia, USA on page 2 of the Book News this month.

In the shop the annual students rush for textbooks is pretty much over now and we await the autumn publishing frenzy of new editions and major works before the end of the year.

Confused about the various available options for Archbold and Blackstone? See our helpful chart on p. 17.

John Eaton reports from Atlanta

I attended the 36th annual course of the International Association of Law Libraries in Atlanta, USA from October 22-25, 2017. The course was titled Civil Rights, Human Rights, and Other Critical Issues in U.S. Law. The programme was true to the title with a number of fascinating sessions on subjects such as the history of “Jim Crow” legislation in the US South (the laws that enforced segregation of the races), the delicate matter of Confederate monuments, the criminalisation of poverty, refugee protection, and information literacy in the era of fake news, among many others.

As is the norm for an IALL study course, there were also arranged tours of relevant attractions. In this case the Center for Civil and Human Rights and the Jimmy Carter Presidential Library and Museum. Both of these attractions were highly relevant to the course of study and were excellent facilities for learning about the struggles of African-Americans for equal rights in the United States and about the presidency of Jimmy Carter.

In spite of the strength of the programme the most enduring value of the conference for me however was the opportunity to meet and catch up with many friends and colleagues from around the world and to discuss matters of mutual interest. Attendance at IALL was a most worthwhile and enlightening endeavour.

INNER TEMPLE LIBRARY

TRANSCRIPTS GUIDE

A new edition of the Inner Temple Library's guide to sources of transcripts, last revised in 2011, is now available as a 174-page PDF document.

The guide is intended primarily for those who may need to obtain, or assist others to obtain, transcripts of proceedings in the courts and tribunals of England and Wales.

While the basic arrangement is unchanged in this new edition, all existing entries have been checked and brought up to date, new courts and tribunals created since 2011 have been added, both the content and the layout of entries have been enhanced, and general information provided in the introduction and the appendices has been significantly expanded. Changes introduced recently to HM Courts and Tribunals Service's transcription service are also covered.

The transcript content of major subscription-based internet services, such as Justis, Lexis and Westlaw, is not included.

Further information and details of how to order the guide can be found at www.innertemplelibrary.org.uk/transcripts-guide-to-sources/

TURKEY AND THE INTERNATIONAL LAW OF THE SEA

JCL Studies in Comparative Law Series No 16

by
Ekrem Korkut

Price: £65.00
ISBN: 9780854902392
Extent: 266pp
Binding: hardback

A comprehensive account of modern Turkish attitudes, legislation, treaty engagements, and State practice based on historical attitudes and contemporary policies, with extensive use of Turkish language sources mostly unknown to a foreign readership. Following a general introduction to Turkish sources of law, geopolitical position, and elements of maritime power, the monograph focuses on internal waters, territorial sea, the Turkish Straits, continental shelf and deep seabed, exclusive economic zone, high seas, and the marine environment, followed by an extensive bibliography.

Dr. Ekrem Korkut received his first degree in law at the University of Istanbul and his LL.M. and S.J.D. degrees at Dickinson School of Law, Pennsylvania State University.

THE UPPSALA YEARBOOK OF EURASIAN STUDIES II

Edited by

Prof Dr Kaj Hobér, Ass Prof Dr Anna Jonsson
Cornell and Prof Dr Leonis Polishchuk

Price: £60.00
ISBN: 9780854902385
ISSN 2059-0989
Extent: 248pp
Binding: paperback

During the years 2003 - 2006 Uppsala University and WSH published the Uppsala Yearbook of East European Law. For a number of reasons publication of the Yearbook was discontinued after the 2006 issue.

We are happy and proud to be able to resume publication of the Yearbook, now with a broadened perspective. As the title, Uppsala Yearbook of Eurasian Studies, indicates the Yearbook now covers also other disciplines than law, in particular political science and economics. Given recent developments in the Eurasian region this enlarged focus is increasingly relevant and important.

Contents:

Articles

- Jonathan Anderson, "The Soviet Slant – Two Key Factors in Cuba's Transplant of Soviet Constitutional Principles"
- Christian R. Burne, "Ask and You Shall Receive: The Exercise of Military Powers by the Russian President"
- Kirill Koroteev, "Degradation of Russian Administrative Law: Cassation Proceedings in Judicial Review before the Russian Supreme Court"
- Margarita Kozlov, "Russia and the WTO: Russia's Case Against the EU Concerning the Third Energy Package"
- Daria Kozłowska-Rautiainen, "Arbitration law in Poland – the changed and unchanged"
- Elena Maslovskaya, "Juridical professionalization of a Russian human rights NGO: a case study"
- Katrin Nyman Metcalf, "Aggression in the Information Space – Russia and its neighbours"

Extent: 206pp
Binding: paperback

A Step-by-Step Guide to Wills and Probate explains how to write a simple will, and how to deal with the affairs of someone who has died. This new edition is completely revised and updated, and is written in plain language by an author who has many years' experience in the probate registries. It explains when you can do things yourself and when you need a solicitor. The subjects covered include:

- Making your will: why do it; how to do it; appointing executors, the different gifts that can be made; how to make sure the will is valid and will be put into effect; examples
- Who may apply for probate: how to work out who, of the relatives and friends left behind, is the one to sort out a deceased person's affairs. Who inherits if there is no will?
- The estate: making sure that all the property and debts are found
- Inheritance Tax: working out if tax has to be paid, how much, and the arrangements for paying it
- Filling in the forms: essential paperwork, with examples. Will drafting/tax law/court forms and precedents updated to April 2017
- Going to court: the procedure for visiting the probate registry to finalise paperwork when this is requested by you and, when not, the procedure for swearing oaths before solicitors
- Administering the estate: collecting together the property; paying the debts, distributing the inheritances

THE SINGLE FAMILY COURT
A Practitioner's Handbook
2nd ed

by
Gillian Geddes and Richard Budworth

Price: £49.00
ISBN: 9780854902316
Extent: 592pp
Binding: paperback

Following the recent overhaul of the family justice system and the resulting plethora of revised legislation, practice directions and guidance from the office of the President of the Family Division, an encapsulation of the essential points and features is vital for the busy family practitioner.

The authors have drawn on their extensive knowledge of the family court system to focus on the key aspects of the recent and significant changes, enabling the practitioner to cope more easily in this rapidly transforming legislative and procedural labyrinth.

This book contains the most frequently needed practice directions, protocols, precedents and relevant case law, as well as providing focussed guidance on a wide range of issues ranging from committal applications in family proceedings to the enforcement of foreign maintenance orders. This fully updated new edition provides a comprehensive and accessible handbook.

Gillian Geddes specialises in complex children's cases and has been cited as a leader in her field in Chambers & Partners UK. Gillian has written comprehensively in relation to family law and the family justice system. She is Head of Chambers at Hind Court, a specialist family set.

Richard Budworth studied law at the City University in London and was called to the Bar in 1982. He specialises in a broad range of family law work including financial remedies, and is a contributory Editor to Emergency Remedies in the Family Courts.

CORPORATE INSOLVENCY PRACTICE

Litigation, Procedure and Precedents

2nd ed

by

Professor Mark Watson-Gandy

Price: £95.00
ISBN: 9780854902187
Extent: 552pp
Binding: hardback

The Insolvency (England and Wales) Rules 2016 introduced extensive changes to insolvency practice, precedents and procedures – the biggest change to insolvency for over 20 years. Fully updated to take account of these new rules, which came into effect on 6 April 2017, Corporate Insolvency Practice is the only comprehensive ‘how to do it’ guide for solicitors and barristers to all the most common court applications in corporate insolvency.

Covering areas as diverse as winding up petitions to administrations to the reuse of company names, this practical and accessible book seeks to give the inside track on what the court will expect both in terms of practice and evidence. It also provides the busy practitioner with a range of useful precedents and checklists, and sets out key statutory and practice material for each application.

Packed with precedents, forms, checklists and statutory extracts, Corporate Insolvency Practice ensures you have readily to hand everything you need to prepare and present the most common insolvency applications. The new edition of this title will be an invaluable reference for all practitioners making insolvency applications in the Companies Court.

Professor Mark Watson-Gandy is a tenant at Three Stone Chambers, a specialist commercial chancery barristers’ chambers in Lincoln’s Inn. He is a Visiting Professor at the University of Westminster and a Visiting Lecturer at Cass Business School. He was appointed to the Court of the University of Essex in 2015. Mark gave evidence to the Commons Select Committee on Business Innovation and Skills’ Inquiry into the “Insolvency Service”, to the All Party Small Business Group’s Inquiry into “breaking down the barriers to entrepreneurship” and the Treasury Committee’s Inquiry on “SME Lending”.

ANTHONY ROY GUBBAY
A Judicial Life

edited by
George Douvelos

Price: £35.00
ISBN: 9780854902347
Extent: 150pp
Binding: hardback

Chief Justice Gubbay was appointed as Chief Justice of Zimbabwe by Robert Mugabe in 1990 but then forced to retire in 2001.

In this book, George Douvelos has collected tributes from some of Chief Justice Gubbay's many admirers, together with a number of papers and addresses delivered by the judge himself, to present a graphic portrayal of what can happen when the Rule of Law is ignored, and judges are subjected to a variety of pressures by political forces to achieve political ends.

What emerges is the story of one courageous man who remained faithful throughout to the Rule of Law, and steadfast in protecting judicial independence, in the face of enormous challenges.

Chief Justice Gubbay's life, and his example, should serve as an inspiration to all who value freedom, justice and democracy.

A PRACTITIONER'S GUIDE TO INHERITANCE ACT CLAIMS

by
Nasreen Pearce
3rd Edition

Price: £79.00
ISBN: 9780854902224
Extent: 460pp
Binding: hardback

'A Practitioner's Guide to Inheritance Act Claims' (previously Inheritance Act Claims) provides a clear, comprehensive, easily accessible and practical guide to the provisions of the Inheritance (Provision for Family and Dependents) Act 1975 as amended.

This book sets out in detail the background to the legislation, pre-conditions and time limits for making a claim, categories of those who are entitled to make a claim, and grounds on which a claim may be made. It looks at the matters to which the court must have regard in deciding a claim and the court's powers to make orders (including the powers of the court in respect of dispositions intended to defeat a claim), the assets out of which financial provision under the Act may be made and the position of personal representatives and trustees.

The new edition includes coverage of the important case of Ilott v The Blue Cross and others and looks at the effect of the Supreme Court's first decision under the Act on the meaning of reasonable financial provisions, testamentary freedom, the position of charities as beneficiaries, the factors that are relevant to the exercise of judicial discretion when deciding what if any award should be made for a claimant and issues relating to grounds of appeal.

This new edition also deals with changes brought about by the Civil Partnership Act 2004; the Marriage (Same Sex Couples) Act 2013; the Presumption of Deaths Act 2013; the Inheritance and Trustees' Powers Act 2014 and the consequential amendments made to the Civil Procedure Rules Part 57 and the Human Fertilisation and Embryology Act 2008.

Nasreen Pearce is a retired circuit judge, and was formerly a district judge in the Principal Registry of the Family Division. She has written widely on family law and is a contributor to The Family Court Practice. She is the author of Change of Name: The Law and Practice also published by Wildy, Simmonds & Hill.

UK TAKEOVER LAW AND THE BOARD NEUTRALITY RULE

by
Chrispas Nyombi

Price: £45.00
ISBN: 9780854902293
Extent: 226pp
Binding: hardback

This book encompasses theoretical and empirical analysis of takeovers and their relationship with society and the State in a rapidly changing social and commercial landscape. It also assesses the experience of those affected by the process of law, for example employees who may find themselves disadvantaged by the operation of shareholder primacy during takeovers. Case studies on two formerly British companies (Corus Steel and Cadbury) which were taken over by foreign companies are also used. For both Cadbury and Corus, a case study method helped to highlight how the takeovers impacted on the interests of employees, senior management and suppliers, and the predatory role played by arbitrageurs (short-term investors) during the offer period.

Dr Nyombi is at present Director of Research in Law at Canterbury Christ Church University, School of Law, Criminal Justice and Computing; Senior Lecturer in International Commercial Law at University of Bedfordshire, Department of Law and Finance; Senior Academic Advisor, Djibouti Chamber of Commerce and the Intergovernmental Authority on Development (IGAD) and Academic/Legal Advisor at The World Health Organisation (WHO) United Nations

RE-ORDERING HONG KONG
Decolonisation and the Hong Kong Bill of Rights Ordinance

by
Max W L Wong

Law in East Asia Series

Price: £65.00
ISBN: 9780854902309
Extent: 280pp
Binding: hardback

The promulgation of the Hong Kong Bill of Rights Ordinance (“HKBORO”) denotes a change in British decolonisation policy from that which prevailed in the 1950s and 1960s – the protection of minorities through a Bill of Rights. The HKBORO is uniquely interesting. The decision to incorporate it into Hong Kong law was political, and aimed at restoring the confidence of the Hong Kong people following the suppression of the Tiananmen democratic movement in Beijing in 1989. In addition, Hong Kong was the only Crown colony to entrench the International Covenant on Civil and Political Rights indirectly in a constitutional document -- in the case of Hong Kong, the Letters Patent, the constitution for Hong Kong before 1997. This incorporation and entrenchment was intended to ensure that the HKBORO continued in force under the Basic Law of the Hong Kong SAR, the “mini-constitution” after 1997. The author suggests that Hong Kong provides a successful model for the courts in other common law jurisdiction in their efforts to incorporate international human rights jurisprudence into decision-making in the criminal law field. This book is not only suitable for practitioners, law teachers and students, but also for researchers with interests in UK colonial history, civil liberties and political science.

THE GOVERNMENT OF GHANA AND INTERNATIONAL ARBITRATION

by

Richard Frimpong Oppong, FGA

Price: £19.95
ISBN: 9780854902286
Extent: 160pp
Binding: paperback

Since the dawn of the twenty-first century, at least twelve international arbitration claims have been submitted against the Government of Ghana (GoG). This is a significant number compared with what had previously been the case. To date, there has been little or no academic study involving the claims, the arbitral awards resulting from them, and their implications for Ghana. This book aims to fill that void. It examines GoG's experiences with international arbitration. It draws on lessons from those experiences, as well as the comparative insights extrapolated from other jurisdictions. The book focuses on arbitration between GoG and private foreign individuals, firms or corporations. It does not deal with interstate arbitration. The book examines: the nature of international arbitration; the writings of Ghanaian scholars on international arbitration; the legal regimes and contractual mechanisms that make GoG amenable to international arbitration as a method of settling disputes between it and private foreign individuals, firms or corporations; the record of actual international arbitration claims that have been brought against GoG, and the awards that have resulted from such claims; the reception and treatment of Ghanaian law as the applicable law in international arbitration claims; the extent to which Ghana has implemented its international obligations with respect to international arbitration; and, the enforcement of foreign arbitral awards against GoG within and outside Ghana.

JUDICIAL PRECEDENT AND ARBITRATION

Are Arbitrators Bound by Judicial Precedent? A Comparative Study of UK, US and Brazilian

Law and Practice

by

Guilherme Rizzo Amaral

Price: £65.00
ISBN: 9780854902279
Extent: 204pp
Binding: hardback

One of the cornerstones of arbitration is the finality of arbitral awards. Saving rare exceptions, arbitral awards cannot be subject to challenges based on the arbitrator's errors of law. Furthermore, there is no hierarchy between arbitral tribunals and judicial courts, nor are arbitrators part of any judicial system. Thus, if arbitrators are not part of any hierarchical scheme and if there is no challenge or appeal available against their errors of law, how could one say that arbitrators have a duty to follow judicial precedents? Besides, when individuals agree to solve their disputes outside the judicial arena, should they expect a private arbitrator to abide by the same standards of a system they have just avoided? Is the choice for arbitration not a choice for an entirely different legal system, unbound by the so-called judge-made law?

This book attempts to answer those questions by presenting a comprehensive guide to the relation between judicial precedents and arbitration in the United States, the United Kingdom and in Brazil, as well as in international arbitration as a whole.

Guilherme Rizzo Amaral holds a Master's degree from the Pontificia Universidade Católica do Rio Grande do Sul (Brazil), a Doctor's degree from the Universidade Federal do Rio Grande do Sul (Brazil) and was a Visiting Scholar at Queen Mary, University of London (Centre for Commercial Law Studies – CCLS). He has authored books and various legal articles on procedural law and has taught Civil Procedural Law at the Universidade Federal do Rio Grande do Sul (UFRGS) and at Fundação Escola Superior do Ministério Público (FMP), among other institutions. He was a member of a committee that assisted the Brazilian House of Representatives in the drafting of the bill of the new Brazilian Code of Civil Procedure (which entered into force in 2016). He is one of the founding partners of Souto Correa Cesa Lummertz & Amaral Advogados (Brazil), where he heads the Dispute Resolution practice. LAW AND REGULATION
Climate Change, Energy Union and International Governance

edited by
Vicente López-Ibor Mayor

Price: £65.00
ISBN: 9780854902262
Extent: 306pp
Binding: hardback

The energy industry has an unstoppable momentum but also a value to society in terms of economic development and environmental protection through the development of “clean energies”. This is helping to build the foundations of an energy law regime, which is currently undergoing necessary development and consolidation. The contributors to this book examine the essential legal and regulatory factors contributing to energy law from different viewpoints and backgrounds.

ASSETS OF COMMUNITY VALUE

Law and Practice

Simon Adamyk

Price: £75.00
ISBN: 9780854902071
Extent: 486pp
Binding: hardback

This book provides guidance on the interpretation and application of the provisions relating to assets of community value under the Localism Act 2011. It aims to provide both legal and practical guidance, drawing together in one place the relevant principles from the Act, the accompanying Regulations, other primary and secondary legislation, Government guidance, the case law and elsewhere. It will provide assistance to a number of different groups: to those who wish to nominate a building or other land for listing as an asset of community value, to landowners who may wish to resist the listing of their property, to local authorities who have to determine the nomination and resolve any disputes (and maybe defend their decision on review and on appeal), and to the professionals who advise them.

The assets of community value provisions of the Localism Act 2011 are being extensively used and the impact of the provisions is not to be underestimated. Thousands of assets have been listed since the legislation came into force, and the provisions can have a significant impact on the landowner's rights in relation to his land, both while the land is still in his ownership and also if he wishes to dispose of the land. The impact of the provisions has increased significantly since they were first introduced, as a result of changes to planning legislation in 2015.

Simon Adamyk is a practising barrister at New Square Chambers, Lincoln's Inn. He read law at Downing College, Cambridge, and was awarded the highest mark in the University in each of the three years of his law degree and also a starred first in his first year. He also holds a Master's degree in law from Harvard Law School. He specialises in chancery/commercial law.

MEDIATION IN CONTEMPORARY CHINA

Continuity and Change

edited by
Fu Hualing and Michael Palmer

Price: £65.00
ISBN: 9780854902248
Extent: 420pp
Binding: hardback

This collection of essays is the result of a collaborative project between Professors Fu Hualing and Michael Palmer, along with scholars in both Hong Kong and mainland China, on the nature and place of mediation in the justice system of the People's Republic of China. The project explores key aspects of the continuing central importance of mediation as a dispute resolution process, the various efforts at the refurbishment of mediation that have been made over the past decade or so, and the reforms that would best enhance the practice, theory and teaching of mediation.

Mediation is used In China today for handling disputes in a variety of institutional contexts: 'people's mediation', which is primarily a form of local community dispute resolution, judicial mediation carried out by judges in and around the court, administrative mediation as conducted by officials and often focused on specific areas of governmental responsibility (as, for example, is the case with environment disputes), mediation in arbitral proceedings, and private mediation carried out without specific institutional support. Over the past fifteen years or so, in response to the rapid economic and social changes taking place in mainland China (including, inter alia, a declining importance of the local community) there have been attempts to institutionalize mediation, to resource it better, and to give it more legitimacy and legal force. In handling cases that come before the courts, judicial mediation continues to be seen as a particularly useful process, offering flexibility and effectiveness in dispute resolution (and even in handling serious criminal cases).

But at the same time, the widespread reliance on mediation can also mean that dispute negotiations do not take place in the 'shadow of the court' but, rather, in the 'shadow of mediation'. Under the current Xi Jinping government, the Chinese Communist Party's concern with political stability and social harmony has intensified. Even more so now than in the past, China's judges, people's mediators, arbitrators and others have to consider the social and political impact of their dispute resolution work, and to see mediation as a part of a larger scheme of dispute containment.

A PRACTITIONER'S GUIDE TO WILLS

Fourth Edition

Lesley King, Keith Biggs and Peter Gausden

Price: £69.00
ISBN: 9780854902040
Extent: 534pp + CD
Binding: hardback

The fourth edition of this popular title provides a practical and comprehensive reference for all those concerned in drafting and interpreting wills, and in giving effect to their provisions. The commentary is supported throughout by an extensive range of specimen clauses and model wills are provided in a separate appendix. All precedent material is included on the accompanying CD-Rom, enabling practitioners to adapt precedents for their own use.

Fully updated, A Practitioner's Guide to Wills now covers the Estates of Deceased Persons (Forfeiture Rule and Law of Succession Act) 2011, Marriage (Same Sex Couples) Act 2013, Trusts (Capital and Income) Act 2013 and the Inheritance and Trustees Powers Act 2014, the latter making major changes to the intestacy rules, family provision legislation and trustees' statutory powers of maintenance and advancement. It examines the impact of these legislative changes as well developments in taxation affecting wills, notably the new relevant property trust regime and its impact on pilot settlements, the new residence nil rate band, the reduced rate of IHT for gifts to charity and the new rules on trusts for disabled beneficiaries. The impact of the new residence nil rate band on planning and drafting is considered, together with the role that nil rate band gifts and discretionary trusts might still have to play in financial planning. The chapter on construction of wills has been rewritten following the Supreme Court's decision in Marley v Rawlings and subsequent cases including Reading v Reading are considered. The chapter on testamentary capacity has been revised in the light of developments since the Mental Capacity Act 2005 including Simon v Byford which considered the extent to which dementia affects testamentary capacity. Other recent cases discussed include the Court of Appeal decisions in Ilott v Mitson and its implications for testators who wish to exclude close family members from benefit.

Lesley King is a solicitor, and a principal lecturer at the College of Law. Keith Biggs is now a Probate Consultant but was formerly the District Probate Registrar at Winchester. Peter Gausden was formerly a principal lecturer at the College of Law. He is now a consultant solicitor at Rowlinsons.
