MAJOR NEW TITLES THIS MONTH

11 King's Bench Walk, Tolley's Employment Handbook 20th ed, LexisNexis UK, PB, £89.00, ISBN: 0754529533

Tolley's Employment Handbook is written in a clear, highly accessible style, covering every aspect of employment law. The handbook is designed to assist you with every query you may have on routine subjects, such as maternity benefits and recruitment, and to provide expert guidance on more sensitive areas of the law such as sex discrimination and redundancy. The new 20th edition is up-to-date with all recent changes in employment law and will help you understand exactly how these developments affect you, your company, your employees or your clients

Abbey, Robert and Richards, Mark, Practical Approach to Conveyancing 8th ed, Oxford Univ Press, PB, £33.99, ISBN: 019928945X

The book has established itself as a core text on the Legal Practice Course for students wishing to have a more applied overview of property law and practice. A new paragraph numbering system allows lecturers to highlight better the most relevant parts of the text and a slightly increased page size ensures students have room to write notes in the margin. The book is also essential reading for solicitors, their support staff, trainee solicitors, licensed conveyancers, legal executives and others involved or interested in the conveyancing process.

Adams, John and Brownsword, Roger, Understand- ing Law 4th ed, Sweet & Maxwell, PB, £14.95, ISBN: 0421960604

Allen, Michael and Cooper, Simon, Elliott and Wood's Cases and Materials on Criminal Law 9th ed, Sweet & Maxwell, PB, £28.95, ISBN: 0421924500

This book presents an extensive collection of cases, statutory provisions, recently published articles and comments designed to define, explain and illustrate the main principles of criminal law. It places the emphasis on the cases and materials, using text for introductory and explanatory purposes. It contains users notes and questions to assist and stimulate students to think critically about the subject and to promote further study.

Blom-Cooper, Sir Louise, Experts in the Civil Courts, Oxford Univ Press, HB, £65.00, ISBN: 0199297940

This new title is a comprehensive guide and reference book for all who are concerned with the quality of expert evidence in the courts. The text focuses on civil practice and looks in detail at the impact of the Civil Procedure Rules on expert evidence. It concentrates on the practical aspects of having experts give evidence, and looks at areas which have caused particular confusion, or on which case law is gradually emerging. Coverage includes the accreditation of experts, the litigant solicitor/expert witness relationship, experts' reports and privilege, court management of expert evidence, the single joint expert, and experts' immunity from liability. The book also includes an illustrative account of one expert's experience in a complex class action relating to a pharmaceutical product.

Caddell, Richard and Johnson, Howard, Blackstone's Statutes on Media Law, Oxford Univ Press, PB, £15.99, ISBN: 0199205892

This is a new title in this leading series, providing a comprehensive set of materials and most important legislative provisions of UK, EC and international law governing the print and broadcast media. This book will be of use to law students studying media law, media studies students and those taking professional journalism courses. Like the other statutes books in the series Blackstone's Statutes on Media Law excludes commentary and is ideal for use in examinations.

Cheetham, Simon, Age Discrimination: The New Law, Jordans, PB, £35.00, ISBN: 1846610265

The Employment Equality (Age) Regulations 2006 come into force on 1 October 2006. The aim of the regulations is to outlaw discrimination on the grounds of age, which is the most widespread form of discrimination in the workplace. For the first time there will be a default retirement age of 65 and employers will not be able to retire employees before that age unless it can be objectively justified. Employers must give employees at least 6 months' notice of the intended retirement date, and also consider requests from employees to continue working beyond the age of 65. Age discrimination in recruitment, promotion and training will be outlawed and the upper age limit for unfair dismissal claims will be removed.

Clayton, Gina, Textbook on Immigration and Asylum Law 2nd ed, Oxford Univ Press, PB, £26.99, ISBN: 0199289735

This second edition of Gina Clayton's textbook provides undergraduates with a dynamic analysis of the law and system of control which govern immigration and asylum in the UK. Students are introduced to the subject through its historical and legal context, clarifying who is subject to immigration control, and describing the legal and administrative structure of the system. A chapter is devoted to the impact of human rights on immigration law, and this theme is pursued throughout the book.

Diederiks-Verschoor, I.H.Ph., Introduction to Air Law 8th ed, Kluwer Law Int'l, HB, £60.00, ISBN: 9041124586

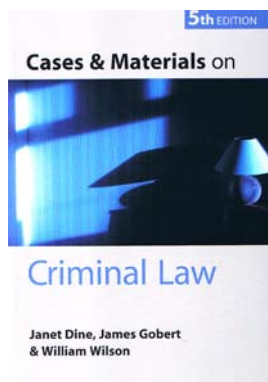

Time and again, through seven previous editions,

Introduction to Air Law has proven itself a comprehensive and up-to-date view of all the main components making up this interesting and topical branch of international law. Coverage includes such aspects as liability of the carrier, insurance, product liability, sovereignty in airspace, aviation personnel, organisations and conventions, automation, liability for damage, search and rescue operations, and criminal offenses such as hijacking.

Dine, Janet; Gobert, James and Wilson, William, Cases and Materials on Criminal Law 5th ed, Oxford Univ Press, PB, £29.99,

A wide selection of case law, essential statutes and other relevant materials, effectively abridged and combined with an enlightening commentary, have established this book as a thorough and engaging resource for students of criminal law. The extensive range of extracted materials and the depth and broad scope of the new edition maps closely onto undergraduate courses. The authors' contextual approach places primary materials alongside non-legal sources to provide a holistic understanding of criminal law and the underlying principles, including human rights in context.

Drier, Thomas and Hugenholtz, Bernt, Concise European Copyright Law, Kluwer Law Int'l, HB, £102.00, ISBN: 9041123849

In the rapidly growing information society, copyright law plays a central role in the creation, production, dissemination and use of creative material and the information it contains. In the past 15 years, the European Union has enacted no less than seven Directives aimed at harmonising copyright throughout the internal market. This book aims to offer the reader a rapid understanding of all the provisions of copyright law in force in Europe, which have been enacted at the European and international levels

Duddington, John, Essentials of Equity and Trust Law, Pearson, PB, £21.99, ISBN: 0582894069

This new textbook on equity and trusts law has been designed to cover all the main topics on undergraduate courses comprehensively but concisely. It offers a clear and accurate explanation of the law, presented in a systematic and logical order for learning and revision. The book is exceptionally accessible to students new to the subject. Key features of this book include: a clear and accessible introduction to this often difficult to grasp subject, which maps well onto course syllabuses; covers key contemporary cases and issues in the media to engage students' interest; and includes critical discussion and analysis so that students are exposed to the issues and debates in the subject.

Eggleston, Brian, NEC 3 Engineering and Construction Contract: A Commentary 2nd ed, Blackwell, HB, £65.00, ISBN: 0632053860

From its launch in 1991, the New Engineering Contract has rapidly overtaken traditional building and civil engineering contracts to become the UK's leading standard form for major construction projects. Additionally, under the generic title NEC3, there is now a family of New Engineering Contract standard forms. This book provides a detailed commentary on the latest edition of the main form - NEC3 Engineering and Construction Contract. It explains how the contract is intended to operate and examines each clause to consider its application and legal interpretation. It draws upon the author's successful book on the second edition of the Engineering and Construction Contract, ECC2, and it identifies and comments on the changes between EEC2 and NEC3.

Elliott, Catherine; Jeanpierre, Eric and Vernon, Catherine, French Legal System 2nd ed, Pearson, PB, £28.99, ISBN:

1405811617

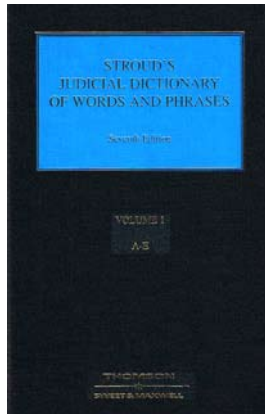

This book provides a topical and highly readable introduction in English to the French legal system, covering all of the key aspects in an accessible manner. “French Legal System” explains the sources of French law, the structure of the courts and professions, and the characteristics of the legal process. It provides an essential foundation for the study of more specific and substantive areas of French law.

Golding, Jon and Arrowsmith, Peter, Tolley's National Insurance Contributions 2006-07 (Main Annual only), LexisNexis UK, PB, £89.95, ISBN:

0754529800 (Main Annual plus supplement), £104.95, ISBN: 0754529819

Widely regarded as the ‘Bible’ of NIC law, this comprehensive guide will answer in depth virtually every point or query put to you for compliance, planning or NIC mitigation purposes. Tolley’s National Insurance Contributions is written in an easy-to-read style and with numerous worked examples. This is the practical book for the busy practitioner or accountant in commerce who needs full, accurate and authoritative answers in a hurry.

Greenberg, Daniel, Stroud's Judicial Dictionary of Words and Phrases

7th ed, Sweet & Maxwell, HB, £495.00, ISBN: 0421929707

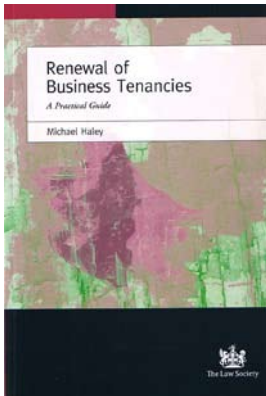

First published in 1890, Stroud is long-established as the foremost dictionary of the English language as it has been interpreted in the courts and in statutory material. The capacity to define words and phrases precisely is critical for lawyers; Stroud gives them quick access to exact, authoritative meanings. It is an indispensable tool for the practitioner and a unique source for the researcher.

Hadwen, Rachel, Child Support Handbook 14th ed 2006/2007, Child Poverty Action Group, PB, £23.00, ISBN: 1901698890
The new Child Support

Handbook is fully updated to give clear, practical guidance to the child support scheme. The Child Support Handbook is the standard guide for claimants and other parents affected, solicitors, welfare rights advisers, CABs, social workers, women's groups and children's charities.

Haley, Michael, Renewal of Business Tenancies: A Practical Guide, Law Society, PB, £59.95, ISBN: 1853289930

Part II of the Landlord and Tenant Act 1954 governs the renewal procedure, gives rights to landlords and tenants, and designates the Court's powers to settle disputes. The Act was radically altered by Regulatory Reform Order and the process of renewal is subject to strict regulation, time-limits and the completion and service of prescribed forms. This book gives a practical guide of the intricacies and pitfalls of the renewal procedure, supported by authoritative examination of the statutory provisions and expert analysis of the case law.

Handford, Peter, Mullany and Handford's Tort Liability for Psychiatric Damage 2nd ed, Law Book Co., HB, £104.00, ISBN: 0455222991

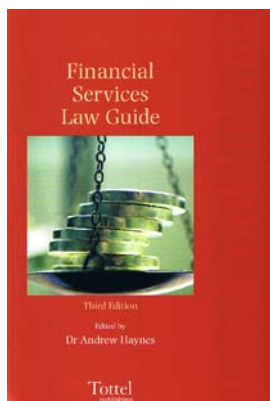

The new edition of Mullany and Handford's Tort Liability for Psychiatric Damage has been comprehensively revised and expanded with 15 new chapters including all new developments in tort liability law. Useful for both scholars and practitioners, this work fully explores the issue of tort liability for psychiatric damage (nervous shock). It answers key questions such as, for what kinds of mental damage will a claim lie? Who may claim? And in what circumstances? This comprehensive reference work covers the leading common law jurisdictions with a focus on Australian, Canadian and English law. The first edition has been oft-cited by courts in the UK, Canada and South Africa.

Haynes, Andrew, Financial Services Law Guide 3rd ed, Tottel Publishing, PB, £115.00, ISBN: 1845921399

Now in its third, fully updated edition, this invaluable guide brings together experts from a range of professions to provide authoritative and practical advice on financial services legal compliance. An indispensable source of reference for lawyers, compliance officers and all those connected with the industry.

Homer, Arnold and Burrows, Rita, Tolley's Tax Guide 2006-07, LexisNexis UK, HB, £54.95,

ISBN: 0754529568

Written by experts in clear, concise English, Tolley's Tax Guide is the number 1 reference work for tax professionals and self-assessment individuals alike. Its analysis of all the latest tax legislation, logical structure and comprehensive coverage make it the obvious first port of call when you want to find up-to-the-minute answers in seconds.

Honeyball, Simon, Honeyball and Bowers' Textbook on Labour Law 9th, Oxford Univ Press, PB, £25.99, ISBN: 019928833X

This book covers all the essential areas of employment and labour law. The text explores both the practical aspects of labour law and the theoretical issues, as well as considering future developments in this fast moving area of law. The history of employment law in its European and UK contexts is also discussed, making it the ideal resource for students studying law degrees and for those on business courses coming to the subject for the first time.

Jackobs, Edward, Child Support Legislation 2005/2006: Supplement, Sweet & Maxwell, PB, £45.00, ISBN: 0421963409

Joelson, Mark, International Antitrust Primer

3rd ed, Kluwer Law Int'l, HB, £133.00, ISBN: 9041124683

This Third Edition of this classic International Antitrust Primer comes five years after the publication of the Second Edition, with substantial revisions and additions reflecting important developments in international cooperation, in national competition rules, and in the competition legislation of the European Community. As antitrust continues its global march and the search for harmonization and coordination progresses, it is ever more important that the current state of competition law, its direction, and its relevance to everyday business transactions be understood and appreciated beyond the sphere of the antitrust specialist

Jones, Richard, Mental Health Act Manual 11th ed, Sweet & Maxwell, PB, £62.00, ISBN: 042196300X

This book is widely accepted as the 'bible' of the Mental Health Act. It is the essential guide for anyone implementing or advising on this complex area of law. This popular and practical work brings together the Act, the Code of Practice and related subordinate legislation. It also includes relevant extracts from the Human Rights Act. The manual outlines the responsibilities and obligation of the parties involved, ensuring that the Act is implemented correctly.

Jordan, David, Understanding VAT on Property 2nd ed, Law Society, PB, £44.95, ISBN: 1853289949

VAT can be an extremely complex area to advise on. Continually evolving, it holds many planning opportunities and pitfalls for advisers and property businesses. The second edition of this authoritative book provides a clear guide to the legislation, explaining how it applies to every type of property development and transaction.

Laudan, Larry, Truth, Error and Criminal Law: An Essay in Epistemology, Cambridge Univ Press, HB, £48.00, ISBN: 0521861667

Beginning with the premise that the principal function of a criminal trial is to find out the truth about a crime, Larry Laudan examines the rules of evidence and procedure that would be appropriate if the discovery of the truth were, as higher courts routinely claim, the overriding aim of the criminal justice system. Laudan mounts a systematic critique of existing rules and procedures that are obstacles to that quest. He also examines issues of error distribution by offering the first integrated analysis of the various mechanisms - the standard of proof, the benefit of the doubt, the presumption of innocence and the burden of proof - for implementing society's view about the relative importance of the errors that can occur in a trial.

Lewis, Amanda, Outsourcing Contracts - A Practical Guide, City & Financial, PB, £70.00, ISBN: 1905121121

This is a complete practical guide to the process, management and regulation of outsourcing, taking the reader through the contract negotiation and all the issues that need to be considered. The text covers every stage of the process in depth and includes checklists to aid understanding.

Llewelyn, Margaret and Adcock, Mike, European Plant Intellectual Property, Hart Publishing, HB, £90.00, ISBN: 1841133221

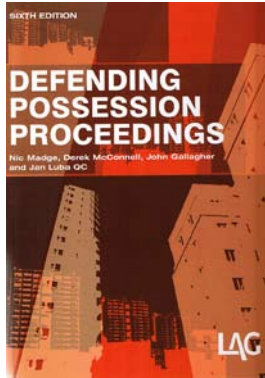

This work analyses European plant intellectual property rights. Whilst the focus of the work is on Europe and in particular the European Patent Convention, Community Regulation on Plant Variety Rights and the EU Directive on the Legal Protection of Biotechnological Inventions, this provision is discussed within the context of international legislation including the Agreement on Trade Related Aspects of Intellectual Property Rights (TRIPs) and the Convention on Biological Diversity. It also examines the impact of plant intellectual property rights on the European plant breeding industry and assesses whether recent developments, such as the Novartis decision, will assist plant breeders, from all sectors of plant breeding activities, in the production of new plant products.

Macdonald, Elizabeth, Exemption Clauses and Unfair Terms 2nd ed, Tottel Publishing, HB, £160.00, ISBN: 1845920678, previous ISBN 0406971439

Madge, Nic; McConnell, Derek; Gallagher, Jon and Luba, Jan, Defending Possession Proceedings 6th ed, Legal Action Group, PB, £48.00, ISBN: 1903307309

Defending Possession Proceedings has established itself as the book that lawyers and advisers turn to in a housing crisis. It is the key 'homelessness prevention' handbook – a comprehensive guide to all aspects of the law relating to possession proceedings. Dealing with the three principal types of occupier - social housing tenants, private tenants and mortgage borrowers - Defending Possession Proceedings focuses on practice and procedure and the relevant substantive law. It is written in a user-friendly way, so that it contains information which is of use to the most experienced legal practitioner, yet is still understandable to the least experienced housing adviser. The main text is supplemented with official forms and notices, statements of case and applications, an instructions checklist, the Rent Arrears Pre-Action Protocol and CPR Part 55.

Matsushita, Mitsuo; Schoenbaum, Thomas J. and Mavroidis, Petros C., World Trade Organization: Law, Practice, and Policy 2nd ed, Oxford Univ Press, PB, £40.00, ISBN: 019920800X

The WTO is one of the most important intergovernmental organizations in the world, yet the way in which it functions as an organization and the scope of its authority and power are still poorly understood. This comprehensively revised new edition of the acclaimed work by an outstanding team of WTO law specialists, provides a complete overview of the law and practice of the WTO.

Mawrey, Richard and Riley-Smith, Toby, Blackstone's Guide to the Consumer Credit Act 2006, Oxford Univ Press, PB, £34.95, ISBN: 0199205264

This Guide covers the new provisions of the Consumer Credit Act, together with the growing importance of the internet and electronic technology to this area of the law, whilst also placing the new Act in the context of what has gone before. The commentary in the Guide is structured in a clear and logical way, thus enabling readers to quickly access the information they require.

McFarlane, Andrew, Hershman & McFarlane Children Act Handbook 2006/07, Jordans, PB, £35.00, ISBN: 184661032X

This provides a single volume source of key children proceedings legislation and related guidance. It contains consolidated, fully amended and annotated texts of the Children Act 1989, relevant parts of the Family Proceedings Rules 1991 and other key legislation in one easily portable volume.

Merryman, John, Imperialism, Art & Restitution, Cambridge Univ Press, HB, £45.00, ISBN: 0521859298

The issue of returning art and cultural property removed from explored or conquered lands by Americans and Europeans is an unresolved problem. This book is about the return, or not, of works of art and antiquity taken during the Age of Imperialism and now held in museums and private collections. Arguments put forth by the states seeking return or restitution for lost art treasures and meaningful cultural icons are pitted against conservator interests who maintain that these art treasures and cultural artifacts belong to all humanity and should be preserved in museums. In this volume, scholars and authorities on art, cultural property law and museum collections offer contrasting views on topics such as the Elgin Marbles, the return of the Nefertiti Bust and the problems and progress of the Native American Graves Protection and Repatriation Act (NAGPRA).

Mulvaney, Jenny, Discrimination in Employment - Law and Practice, Law Society, PB, £49.95, ISBN: 1853289442

Discrimination law has undergone considerable change and development in recent years. In addition to new regulations issued under the Disability Discrimination Act 1995, new areas of discrimination have been developed: age, religion and belief, and sexual orientation. Existing laws have also been subject to amendment. Written by leading practitioners in the field, this authoritative and comprehensive guide gives the reader an excellent understanding of both law and practice.

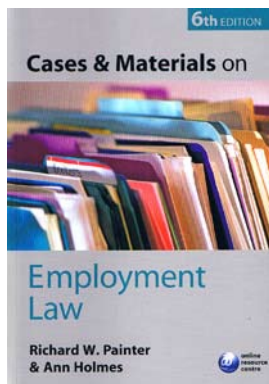

O'Sullivan, Janet and Hilliard, Jonathan, Law of Contract 2nd ed (Core Text), Oxford Univ Press, PB, £19.99, ISBN: 0199290326

This new edition introduces readers to the basic principles of this key topic. The straightforward analysis provided by Janet O'Sullivan and Jonathan Hilliard covers a wide range of issues and current controversies, and offers a clear and concise exposition of contract law. The text offers a balanced introduction to this important area of study for undergraduate students, and can also be used as an on-going revision and reference source to reinforce students' understanding throughout their studies.

Painter, Richard and Holmes, Ann, Cases and Materials on Employment Law 6th ed, Oxford Univ Press, PB, £29.99, ISBN: 0199284490

The sixth edition offers wide-ranging and accurate coverage of this dynamic and controversial subject. Clearly written and well researched, this text provides a complete source of reference for students. Notes and questions aid students' understanding of this rapidly changing area of the law.

Poole, Jill, Casebook on Contract Law 8th ed, Oxford Univ Press, PB, £26.99, ISBN: 0199290296

This book provides a clear and well-structured explanation of the principles and rules of contract law through a comprehensive selection of case law, addressing all aspects encountered on undergraduate courses. The coverage in this new edition has been revised to incorporate all recent significant decisions and judgements made by the House of Lords and the Court of Appeal. Extracts have been chosen from a wide range of historical and contemporary cases to illustrate the reasoning processes of the court, why decisions are made, and how legal principles are developed, thus enabling cases to be analysed and discussed independently while, taken as a whole, the chapters provide a sound understanding of the modern law of contract. Succinct author commentary focuses the reader on the key elements within the extracts, while thought-provoking questions are posed throughout to develop more in-depth analysis.

Practitioner's Guide to the City Code on Takeovers and Mergers 2006/07, City & Financial, PB, £89.00, ISBN: 1905121113 on Takeovers and Mergers has become a valuable resource for all those working in this area. The publication of a new edition each year will continue to help readers keep up to date with the latest regulatory developments.

Since its first publication in 1988, A Practitioner's Guide to The City Code

Rajan, Mira Sundara, Copyright and Creative Freedom: A Study of Post-

Socialist Law Reform, Routledge, HB, £75.00, ISBN: 0415702070

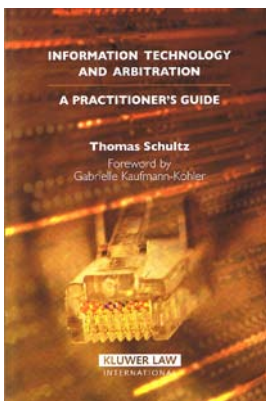

This accessible new book delivers in two key areas: first, a new way of thinking about copyright reform in countries which are engaged in the modernization of their copyright laws; and second, a new international approach to copyright regulation in the era of globalization.

Sangero, Boaz, Self-Defence in Criminal Law, Hart Publishing, HB, £45.00, ISBN: 1841136077

This book combines a careful philosophical discussion of the rationale justifying self-defence with a detailed discussion of the range of statutory self-defence requirements, as well as discussions of numerous other relevant issues (i.e. putative self-defence, excessive self-defence, earlier guilt and battered women).

Schultz, Thomas, Information Technology and Arbitration: A Practitioner's Guide, Kluwer Law Int'l, PB, £49.00, ISBN: 9041125159

This is not another book about online dispute resolution (ODR). Rather, it is about how various information technology (IT) solutions may be put to good use in traditional arbitral proceedings. Because IT tools can reduce costs and time radically by accelerating the arbitral process, the trend toward more and more use of such tools in arbitral proceedings is unstoppable. For arbitration professionals, be they arbitrators or counsel, this book brings the landscape of this changed practice into clear focus, dispersing mists of confusion and clarifying the choices they will inevitably be called upon to make.

Seetahal, Dana, Commonwealth Caribbean Criminal Procedure 2nd ed, Cavendish, PB, £45.00, ISBN: 1859419747

This is the first textbook to deal with criminal practice and procedure as it relates to the Caribbean. The text clarifies the state law in each jurisdiction, making it clear when laws are the same or similar, and statutory law in the Caribbean is compared to English Law throughout. Statute law and common law are examined in the relevant jurisdictions including Trinidad, Tobago, Guyana, Barbados, Jamaica and Grenada among others. Although the laws of each jurisdiction have many things in common, Seetahal makes it clear when differences in laws between the jurisdictions apply. The impact of statutory changes are also analyzed alongside recent developments. Revised throughout, this new edition addresses the recent changes in law in St Lucia and the Bahamas bringing this popular text right up to date. Although it has been written for law students, as the only book which deals specifically with criminal practice and procedure in the Caribbean, it is also a useful reference tool for criminal justice professionals.

Service Charges in Commercial Property: RICS Code of Practice, RICS Books, PB, £20.00, ISBN: 1842193007

This Code of Practice, based on the second edition of Service Charges in Commercial Property: A Guide to Good Practice, has been written in the light of UK government concerns about disputes over service charges and their alleged lack of transparency. Also, since the second edition of the Guide was published in 2000, expectations of services have increased, and owners and occupiers are favouring a more consensual approach rather than the adversarial positioning that was formerly the case.

Sime, Stuart, Practical Approach to Civil Procedure 9th ed, Oxford Univ Press, PB, £33.99, ISBN: 0199289441

Any lawyer practising in the civil courts in England and Wales needs a thorough grasp of practice and procedure, and the rules of practice as applied by the courts. Taking a pragmatic rather than an academic approach to the topic, A Practical Approach to Civil Procedure provides a comprehensive commentary on all the major areas of civil litigation. Designed to cover points that are likely to arise in day-to-day practice, the text explains the various procedures that must be followed as a claim progresses from its early stages through its interim stages, and on to trial, enforcement, and possible appeal.

Smart, Huw, Blackstone's Custody Officers' Manual 2nd ed, Oxford Univ Press, PB, £29.95, ISBN: 0199287589

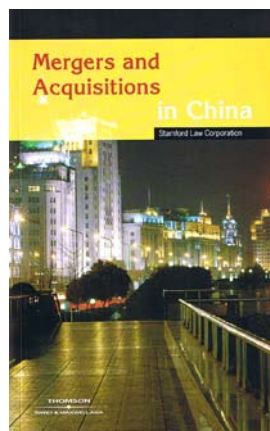

This new, updated 2nd edition of this popular book provides a practical companion for trainee and established custody officers, containing all relevant legislation together with interpretations of the areas of the Codes of Practice that are most commonly misunderstood. It offers a comprehensive treatment of all the elements of the custody officer's role, highlighting common problem areas and offering practical guidance.

Smith, Roger J., Property Law Cases and Materials 3rd ed, Pearson, PB, £35.99, ISBN: 140580744X

This book provides a comprehensive source-book suitable for students on property or land law courses. The source material has been carefully selected to allow access to all cases and materials a property law student is likely to encounter during their studies. Whilst particularly suitable for use on property and land law courses on the LL.B; it also covers the requirements of the CPE, ILEX and combined law courses.

Stamford Law Corporation, Mergers and Acquisitions in China, Sweet & Maxwell, HB, £75.00, ISBN: 981051770X

Mergers and Acquisitions in China provides a reliable source of information on the legal framework, forms and structures of mergers and acquisitions transactions, government approval and due diligence processes, as well as alternative dispute resolutions - all of which should be understood before one enters the China market.

Press, PB, £24.99, ISBN: 0199279594

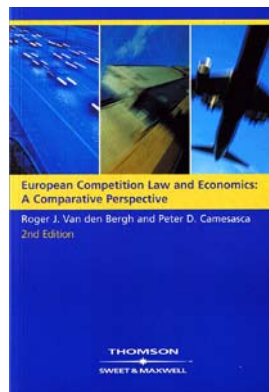

This is one of the leading textbooks in this area and covers, in a logical progression, both the institutions of the EU and the substantive law they produce, with significant recent developments in the law being introduced in an appropriate context. This ninth edition has been fully updated and takes into account major new case-law developments, as well as recent legislative changes in the key areas, including the new European Constitution. Students are also introduced, with the inclusion of a new chapter, to the issues surrounding the free movement of capital.

Thompson, Mark, Modern Land Law 3rd ed, Oxford Univ Press, PB, £27.99, ISBN: 0199277907

This third edition provides an engaging and highly accessible introduction to the basic principles of contemporary land law, covering all the major topics studied by undergraduates. Taking a fresh, analytical approach, Mark Thompson excels in explaining complex situations and rules clearly but without oversimplification. The book explores the social context within which the law operates and guides students through the various debates which continue around the subject.

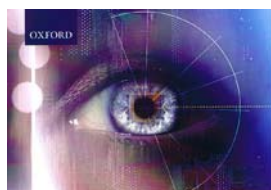

Van de Bergh, Roger and

Carnesca, Peter D., European Competition Law and Economics: A Comparative Perspective, Sweet & Maxwell, PB, £40.00, ISBN: 0421965800

This is an essential guide to the economic analysis of European Competition Law. It includes manifold comparisons with US antitrust law, and has a easy to use layout with worked case examples, graphs and bullet pointed summaries. BLACKSTONE'S GUIDE TO
The Identity Cards Act 2006

Wadham, John, Blackstone's Guide to the Identity Cards Act 2006, Oxford Univ Press, PB, £29.95, ISBN: 019928606X

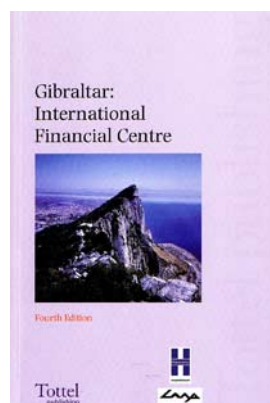

This Guide is written by two experienced practitioners currently based at Liberty, the National Council for Civil Liberties. Structured in a clear and logical way following the parts of the Act, it provides an up-to-date and informative guide, making it an essential purchase for practitioners and organisations working in a number of legal areas.

Weller, Marc, Rights of Minorities, Oxford Univ Press, PB, £29.99, ISBN: 0199207623

The rights of minorities are becoming increasingly important, especially in the context of enlargement of the European Union, yet there are remarkably few treaties dealing with minority rights under international law. One of these is the Council of Europe's Framework Convention for the Protection of National Minorities. This volume provides the first expert commentary on the Convention, which is the principal international document establishing minority rights in a legally binding way. Many minority rights such as those to political participation, non-assimilation, and the use of native languages are not incorporated in other major Human Rights agreements. The Convention is therefore often taken to be the leading standard in the international law of minority rights.

Worthington, Sarah, Equity 2nd ed (Clarendon Law Series), Oxford Univ Press, PB, £21.99, ISBN: 0199290504

The second edition of Sarah Worthington's Equity sets out the basic principles of equity, illustrated by both historical and contemporary examples of their operation. The book describes equity's role in creating different rights and obligations, remedies, and procedures from those provided by the common law itself. Worthington provides a complete reworking of the material traditionally described as Equity. In doing this, she provides a comprehensive examination of the fundamental principles underpinning Equity's most significant incursions into the modern law of property, contract, tort, and unjust enrichment. More importantly, she exposes the possibilities, and the need, for coherent substantive integration of Common Law and Equity. Such integration is perceived as crucial to the continuing success of the modern common law legal system. Whilst this book is, on the one hand, an accessible and elementary exploration of Equity's place in our legal system, it also addresses the most taxing and controversial questions which our dual system of law and equity raises.

To our best knowledge, all particulars are correct at the time of going to press. However, we regret that we cannot accept responsibility for any errors, and wish to advise readers that price and date of publication may be subject to change by the publishers concerned

The Principles of the Law of Restitution

SECOND EDITION

Graham Virgo

Reviews of the first edition:

'...a fine addition to the corpus of restitution literature, a book well worth owning and recommending to those studying restitution for the first time.'

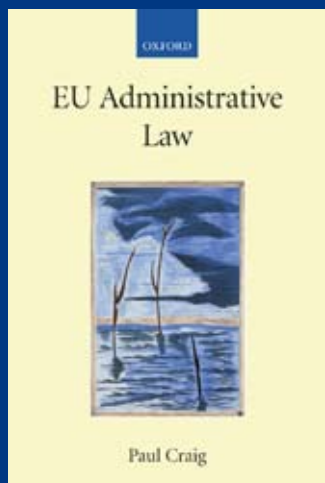

Duncan Sheehan, Restitution Law Review

The second edition of this textbook lays out the key principles which underlie that body of law known as the law of restitution. This subject was recognised by the House of Lords as a discrete body of law fifteen years ago - although restitutionary principles have, in fact, been evolving for over 200 years. Since the recognition of the subject by the House of Lords the subject has developed dramatically, and even more rapidly since the publication of the first edition of this text in 1999.

EU Administrative Law

Paul Craig

The book analyses and evaluates the ways in which the EU delivers policy, assessing the role of law therein from a contextual and inter-disciplinary perspective. It also considers in-depth the principles of EU judicial review applicable to EU administration and that of the Member States when acting in the sphere of EU law.

Age Discrimination: A Guide to the New Law

Edited by Shaman Kapoor
Law Society Publishing, Paperback, ISBN 1853285145, £34.95, due September 2006

The new age discrimination regulations come into force on 1st October 2006. This timely resource provides an excellent guide to the new law and how it will be applied in practice. The regulations aim to eliminate discrimination on the grounds of age at all stages of employment, from application through to termination and retirement. There are, however, exceptions which the authors explore in detail. Thorough, practical and user-friendly, the book features a logical layout, providing a step-by-step guide to the implications of the regulations at each stage of the employment process; pertinent examples to illustrate specific points and is written in clear language to explain complex provisions. The book also includes the full text of the Employment Equality (Age) Regulations 2006 and the European Directive on which they are based. Written by a team of barristers from 1 Temple Gardens specialising in employment law, Age Discrimination is essential reading for professionals.

Corporate Borrowing 3rd edition

by Geoffrey Fuller
Jordan Publishing, Hardcover, ISBN 1846610095, £95.00, due September 2006

Corporate Borrowing straddles both company and banking law. In one volume it defines the most effective ways of raising debt finance – from bank loan agreements to MTN programmes – and examines the specific legal problems of security and prospectus requirements under the Prospectus Directive. The third edition of this highly rated book has been fully updated with the key legal and regulatory developments and features significantly expanded coverage of security going from one to two chapters dealing with the general law and types of security, subordination, guarantees and variation of rights. Repackagings, CDOs, securitisations and other forms of structured finance are now described in detail as well as the implications of the Elektron cases on the roles of trustees and new regulations on the execution of documents.

Human Rights and Religion - The Islamic Headscarf Debate in Europe

Dominic McGoldrick
Hart Publishing, Paperback, ISBN 1841136522, £18.95, due September 2006

The debate on multiculturalism and human rights in Europe was reignited in 2004 by the Islamic headscarf ban in France. The legal and political tensions thrown up by this debate are now being witnessed in many European states. The place of religion in schools in general, and wearing of religious dress in State schools in particular, has become an issue across Europe. Supporters of the right to wear the Islamic headscarf argue that the ban and similar prohibitions infringe a number of human rights. This book examines the issues by considering questions of language, meaning and symbolism. In doing so it identifies the debates behind the debates. Detailed consideration is given to the headscarf debate in France. Comparative practice in a number of European states - Germany, Switzerland, Spain, Italy, Belgium, the Netherlands, the United Kingdom and Turkey - is examined. Brief consideration is also given to a number of non-European states. The book also outlines the role and function of an international human rights law approach to the Islamic headscarf. It concludes with some wider reflections on the broader political and cultural struggles that lie behind the Islamic headscarf debate. This wider frame of analysis reveals the deeper significance of the Islamic headscarf bans.

Civil Partnership: Law and Practice

Andrea Woelke

Jordan Publishing, Paperback, ISBN 1853289736, £49.95, due September 2006

The Civil Partnership Act 2004 provides a framework for establishing a new kind of recognised relationship between same-sex couples with most of the rights, responsibilities and other consequences of marriage. For the first time this will enable couples, gay men and lesbians to have their relationships recognised and to acquire legal and financial rights and protections as civil partners. The Act came into force on 5 December 2005. This comprehensive, practical guide will be invaluable for all practitioners in England and Wales who advise same-sex partners in family, private client and other areas of the law. It outlines all the key areas of the new regime, such as formation and registration; dissolution; the financial consequences; and children and other rights and responsibilities. With practical checklists and flow-charts it covers all the areas practitioners need to be aware of including tax and tax planning, pensions, social security, immigration and housing. The accompanying CD-ROM ensures swift access to the Act and all the key Statutory instruments.

Emergency Services: Law and Liability

by John Morrell, Peregrine Hill, Mark Whittaker, et al
Jordan Publishing, Hardback, ISBN 1846610303, £75.00, due October 2006

Emergency Services: Law and Practice is a comprehensive survey of the legal liabilities of the three main emergency services, written by a team of specialists in public authority liability claims. This new work sets out the legal and regulatory framework in which these services operate and the potential liabilities that arise from the performance of their statutory duties. It covers in detail the public liability of each service including liability for the negligent treatment of victims and negligent rescue. It deals with employer's liability in respect of the unique tasks carried out by employees of emergency services. Other issues specific to one or more of the services, such as malfeasance, pensions and disciplinary proceedings, are also covered in detail. The book will be of interest to Lawyers dealing with general common law and public sector claims, risk managers and insurance industry professionals dealing with the public sector.

Conveyancing Handbook, 13th Edition

General Editor: Frances Silverman

Law Society Publishing, Hardcover, ISBN 1853285587, £79.95, due September 2006

The law and practice of conveyancing is undergoing significant change with the introduction of Home Information Packs and e-conveyancing. The annual Conveyancing Handbook provides busy practitioners with the resources to understand the impact of new developments and to tackle everyday questions. This established and highly regarded book continues to be the most reliable, accurate and up-to-date source of information and guidance on all aspects of conveyancing practice. New to the 13th edition is coverage of the new Home Information Packs and implementation of the Housing Act 2004; the Land Registry's plans for e-conveyancing; prescribed clauses leases; coverage of the Disability Discrimination Act 2005; and Law Society guidance on client care, equity release, insurance, money laundering, and referral fees. Reader-friendly and accessible, the handbook helps to resolve many of the problems conveyancers encounter on a daily basis. Comprehensive coverage of each step of a conveyancing transaction is provided, as well as as peripheral matters such as advertising, property selling, undertakings, costs and remedies. The new edition also includes the complete Solicitors' Practice Rules (with consolidated amendments), and a useful directory of essential contacts, including: land registries, probate registries and search providers.

Offshore Tax Planning, 13th edition

by Giles Clarke

LexisNexis Butterworths, Paperback, ISBN 1405711132, £120.00, due October 2006

This new edition of the respected title features extensive new material and is updated to take into account the Finance Act 2006. It also includes such topics as practical analysis of planning opportunities, thorough analysis of anti-avoidance legislation, extended treatment of non-domiciliaries and an examination of existing offshore structures. Clarke: Offshore Tax Planning is essential reading for accountants, solicitors and financial advisers handling the affairs of private clients and privately-owned businesses. The practical nature of this book makes it an invaluable guide while annual publication ensures it is both up-to-date and relevant.

Exploring Law's Empire - The Jurisprudence of Ronald Dworkin

Edited by Scott Hershovitz
Oxford University Press, Hardback, ISBN 0199274355, £50.00, due September 2006

Exploring Law's Empire is a collection of essays by leading legal theorists and philosophers who have been invited to develop, defend, or critique Ronald Dworkin's controversial and exciting jurisprudence. The volume explores Dworkin's critique of legal positivism, his theory of law as integrity, and his writings on constitutional jurisprudence. Each essay is a cutting-edge contribution to its field of inquiry, the highlights of which include an introduction by Justice Stephen Breyer of the United States Supreme Court, and a concluding essay by Dworkin himself. This final chapter responds to the preceding essays and lays out Dworkin's own vision for the future of jurisprudence over the coming years.

Taxation of Private Property

by Boodle Hatfield

LexisNexis Butter-

worths, Softcover, ISBN 0754528006, £105.00, due November 2006

Taxation of Private Property is dedicated to all of the taxation aspects affecting residential property and the family home and is tied-in with a conference. Covering all taxation considerations covering private residential property, this title also fully covers pre-owned assets, which has become one of the key central planks of lifetime tax planning. Also included are sections on more specialist and less frequently covered areas such as heritage property, 'the mansion house' and let property.

State Entities in International Arbitration

Emmanuel Gaillard, Editor
Juris Publishing, Hardcover, ISBN 1929446969, £85.00, due September 2006.

States get involved in international affairs either directly or through their instrumentalities. The activities of these instrumentalities raise many issues, two of which have given rise to significant recent developments both in arbitral and domestic case law. The first is whether and under what conditions a State may be held liable for the conduct of such instrumentalities on the basis of an investment treaty. This issue will be the subject of a systematic survey of ICSID and ICC case law and that of other arbitral tribunals so as to identify the circumstances in which such liability may arise. The second issue, which is addressed by State courts, is whether and under what conditions State instrumentalities that have a separate and autonomous legal personality may be held liable for the pecuniary obligations of the State. A comparative law study focusing in particular on solutions found in French, English and U.S. law will provide answers to the question as to whether an award holding a State liable may be enforced against the assets of instrumentalities of that State, where such instrumentalities are prima facie separate juridical persons.

The WTO Agreement on Safeguards: A Commentary

by Alan O. Sykes

Oxford University Press, Hardback, ISBN 0199277400, £75.00, due September 2007

This book provides a thorough treatment of the legal, economic, and policy issues associated with safeguard measures in the WTO system. It includes a careful treatment of the history of safeguard measures under GATT, and the impetus for the Agreement on Safeguards during the Uruguay Round. It reviews the economic arguments for and against safeguard measures, including the modern political economy account of safeguards and nullescape clauses in international agreements. Subsequent chapters focus on the key legal issues associated with the use of safeguards, including the procedural requirements, the obligation to demonstrate unforeseen developments and increased imports, the concept of nullserious injury, null the puzzling causation test, and limitations on the scope of safeguard measures including non-discrimination principles. All of the safeguard decisions within the WTO dispute system are thoroughly dissected and analysed. Included as appendices are the relevant treaty text and the pertinent national legislation of the United States and European Union.

LexisNexis Butterworths, Softcover, ISBN 0754528731, £220.00, due November 2006

The new edition of this established work is fully up to date and details in a clear and concise format the practical taxation strategies used across the whole range of financial decision-making criteria required by individuals, partnerships and corporate bodies. Composed of two volumes, each chapter being written by a practising expert, it provides an invaluable source of ideas on keeping tax payments to a minimum. Written in straightforward language, with clear explanations and practical solutions, it is an invaluable and essential reference source for all tax practitioners.

Rights, Groups, and Self-Invention: Group-Differentiated Rights in Liberal Theory

by Eric J. Mitnick

Ashgate Publishing, Hardback, ISBN 0754645738, £55.00, due September 2006

This volume describes and critically assesses the group-differentiated form of 'right' from within analytical, constitutive and liberal theory. It explores to what extent the group-differentiated form of right serves to shape aspects of human identity and whether this should be a cause for concern. The more detailed normative work advanced here contextually applies the constitutive understanding of rights and the principles of liberal membership to particular examples of group-differentiated citizenship. Such examples range from slavery and alienage, to more affirmative classifications, such as those apparent in the contexts of civil unions and affirmative action.

CHANCEL REPAIR LIABILITY
How to Research It
Revised ed

Derriman, James

ISBN: 1898029849

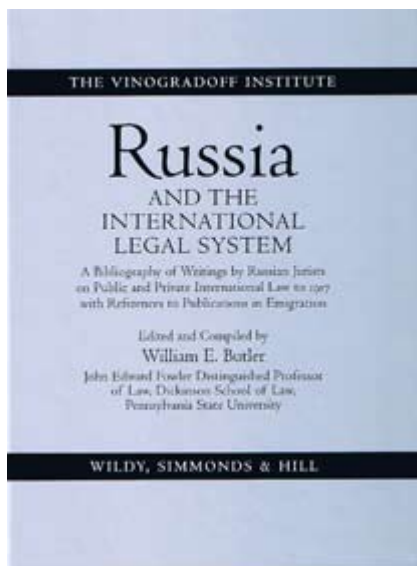

Hardback

Price: £19.95

The owner of any property, however small, in England or Wales, can be liable in certain circumstances to pay for repairs to the chancel of a medieval parish church in his locality. Until a recent case decided in the House of Lords led to a farmer and his wife being called on to pay a £95,000 bill, many property owners, conveyancers and parochial church councils had ignored this apparently remote corner of the law. Now, especially as a result of the Land Registration Act 2002, chancel repair liability has become a live issue.

The need for searches to establish whether any particular land may be affected is increasingly recognised. This book — the first of its kind — provides practical information on how to make these searches. It does not set out to be a legal textbook, but to enable lawyers, laymen and churchmen to understand the background and sources of information available so that they can discover so far as is possible when, and to what extent, liability may exist.

A Foreword by Dr R. Sturt, Diocesan Registrar of Canterbury, endorses its value not only for people who plan to do their own research, but as a mine of information for professionals, parochial church councils and amateur historians

FROM TRUST TO TAKEOVER
Butterworths 1938-1967
A Publishing House in Transition

Gordon Graham

ISBN: 1898029814
Hardback 102pp
£12.95

Stanley Bond, a largely unrecognized publishing genius, instructed in his will that his two infant sons should inherit the company when they attained the age of twenty-five. Until then, the company should be run by a Trust, which he set up, most of the income from which would go to his widow. The sons never got their inheritance. The company was sold twenty-four years after Bond's death. How this came about is a story of intrigue and power plays, in researching which the author had access to confidential archives and was able to interview witnesses of the drama. The result is a tale that throws light on the mores of privately-run companies sliding unwillingly into the era of corporate ownership.

Gordon Graham was Chairman and Chief Executive of Butterworths from 1975 to 1990. Prior to that he had been Managing Director of McGraw-Hill's British subsidiary and International Sales Manager of the McGraw-Hill Book Company, New York.

THE JOURNAL OF COMPARATIVE LAW

Edited by Nicholas Foster & Camilla Baasch Andersen

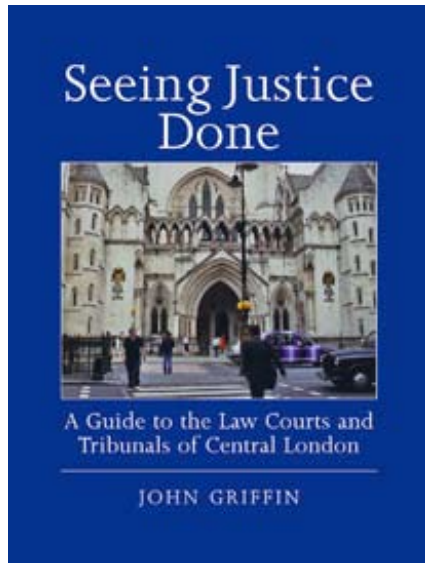

ISSN 1477-0814

2 issues per annum

Subscription Rates: £95 Institutions and £45 Individuals

We have pleasure in announcing publication of The Journal of Comparative Law. The journal provides a forum for comparative law scholarship and analysis. It will be an invaluable tool for practitioners and scholars working across international borders and with harmonised law. The journal, which is refereed, publishes materials on all aspects of comparative law, covering all geographical areas, and encourages analytical work with a contextual, theoretical and interdisciplinary approach. Due weight is accorded to practical aspects. The journal should appeal to a wide range of readers, including academics, students and international practitioners. Significant features include the publication of assessments and translations of important documents and comparative law bibliographies, as well as reviews of current and classic treatises and texts.

SEEING JUSTICE DONE

A guide to the Law Courts and Tribunals of Central London

John Griffin

ISBN: 1898029822

Paperback 126pp

£19.95

Seeing Justice Done is aimed at students and overseas lawyers, and at everyone with the time and inclination to visit the Law Courts and Tribunals of Central London as a spectator. The book describes where each of them is to be found, and what goes on inside them. Prominent lawyers explain the difference between barristers and solicitors, and there are eighteen interviews with individuals involved, willingly or unwillingly, in what lawyers call “the administration of justice”, ranging from a High Court Judge to a persistent criminal. The royalties of this book are being donated to the Solicitors Benevolent Association.
