MAJOR NEW TITLES THIS MONTH

Abbott, Damien, Encyclopedia of Real Estate Terms: Based on American and English Practice, with Terms from the Commonwealth as Well as the Civil Law, Scots Law and French Law 3rd ed, Delta Alpha Publishing Ltd, Hardback, £85.00, ISBN: 9780966894646

The Third Edition of the Encyclopedia of Real Estate Terms is the most COMPREHENSIVE reference work on real estate terminology. The Encyclopedia defines and explains in detail the meaning and significance of over 10,000 real estate terms (as well as related terms from contract, tort, insurance, accounting, economics, finance and banking). It contains more than 15,000 citations (including over 5,700 cases and 1,900 statutory or code references). There are over 7,400 bibliographical references, many of which are referenced by page or paragraph number, enabling the User to go to the book or an online service to find further information. In addition, there are references to many useful web sites, such as real estate organization, government bodies, major reference works such as USPAP and the RICS 'Red Book', and much more. This reference work is truly international in scope. It draws on material from the United States, Canada, United Kingdom, Australia, New Zealand and France. It also includes Latin terms and terms from the Civil law.

Alston, Philip; Macdonald, Euan, Human Rights, Intervention, and the Use of Force, Oxford University Press, Hardback, £50.00, ISBN: 9780199552719 Paperback, £24.99, ISBN: 9780199552726

This collection presents an analysis of the irreducible dilemmas posed by the foundational challenges of sovereignty, human rights and security, not merely in terms of the formal doctrine of their disciplines, but also of the manner in which they can be configured in order to achieve persuasive legitimacy as to both methods and results.

Andreangeli, Arianna, EU Competition Enforcement and Human Rights, Edward Elgar Publishing Limited, Hardback, £69.95, ISBN:

9781847206329

This book discusses the procedural rights enjoyed by those being investigated under Articles 81 and 82 of the EC Treaty and of the Merger Control Regulation, and their right to challenge the Commission's decision in the Community Courts. It further assesses how their rights to 'due process' in competition proceedings before the European Commission comply with the notion of 'administrative fairness' enshrined in the European Convention on Human Rights, in accordance with the case law of the European Court of Human Rights.

Bainbridge, David, Intellectual Property 7th edition, Pearson Higher Education, Paperback, £38.99, ISBN: 9781405859202

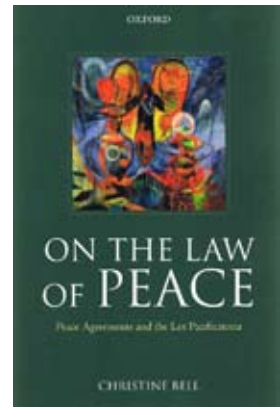

Intellectual Property 7th edition provides a substantial view of intellectual property law, dealing with principles, academic issues and practical considerations. Split into well structured parts, each comprises an introductory chapter on basic principles, and subsequent chapters addressing the particular aspects of each right.

Barnes, Peter A.; Davies, Matthew, Subcontracting Under the JCT 2005

Forms, Wiley-Blackwell, Hardback, £69.50, ISBN: 9781405177887

These days, subcontractors in the construction industry are generally aware of their rights and obligations, and main contractors and clients' advisers need to keep abreast of developments in subcontract law. As the majority of work is carried out under JCT contracts, all parties need to understand the rights and obligations of the latest JCT 05 suite of subcontracts, against the background of the general principles of contract law. A companion to Peter Barnes' first book, The JCT 05 Standard Building Sub-Contract, this book deals with all the other JCT 05 subcontracts.

Bell, Christine, On the Law of Peace: Peace Agreements

and the Lex Pacificatoria, Oxford University Press, Paperback, £22.50, ISBN: 9780199226849

This book aims to provide a comprehensive analysis of the use of peace agreements from a legal perspective. The book describes and evaluates the development of contemporary peace agreement practice, and the documents which emerge. It sets out what is in essence an anatomy of peace agreement practice, and locates this practice with reference to the role of law.

Bently, Lionel; Sherman, Brad, Intellectual Property Law 3rd ed, Oxford University Press, Paperback, £37.99, ISBN: 9780199292042

Bently and Sherman's Intellectual Property Law is the definitive textbook on intellectual property law. The book's all-embracing approach not only clearly sets out the law in relation to copyright, patents, trademarks, passing off and confidentiality, it also takes account of a wide range of academic opinion enabling readers to explore and make informed judgments about the key principles. The authors' particularly clear and lively writing style ensures that even the most complex areas are lucid and comprehensible, and the text is further enlivened with illustrations and diagrams.

Blackstone's Police Manuals

Connor, Paul, Blackstone's Police Manual: Volume 1 - Crime 2009, Oxford University Press, Paperback, £15.95, ISBN: 9780199547616

Cooper, Simon; Orme, Michael, Blackstone's Police Manual: Volume 3 - Road Policing 2009, Oxford University Press, Paperback, £15.95, ISBN: 9780199547623

new field of international law that defines the obligations of host states towards foreign investors and creates procedures for resolving disputes in connection with those obligations. Investor-State Arbitration examines the international treaties that give investors a right to arbitration of claims, the most-commonly employed arbitration rules, and the most important elements of investor-state arbitration procedure - including tribunal composition, jurisdiction, evidence, award, and challenge of annulment. Expert coverage includes procedural barriers to recovery, analysis of the substantive law of investment protection, and analysis of recent investor-state arbitral jurisprudence.

Easton, Susan; Piper, Christine, Sentencing and Punishment: The Quest for Punishment 2nd ed, Oxford University Press, Paperback, £23.99, ISBN: 9780199218103

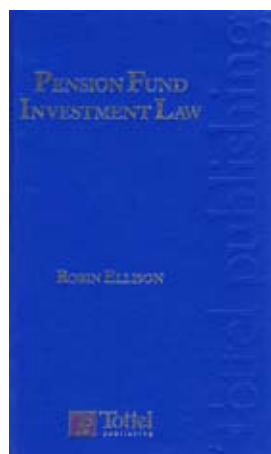

The second edition of this innovative text provides an accessible account of recent developments in sentencing and punishment from the standpoint of penal theories, policy aims, punishment practice and human rights. It reviews - from philosophical, legal and practical perspectives - changing ideas as to what counts as 'just' punishment, and provides an integrated discussion of the law and legitimacy of the process of calculating and implementing punishment.

Eleftheriadis, Pavlos, Legal Rights, Oxford University Press, Hardback, £40.00,

ISBN: 9780199545285

Legal Rights addresses core debates in legal philosophy by criticizing the existing analytical models for understanding legal rights and advocating a new approach based on normative political philosophy. Just as there are rational requirements of morality, there are rational requirements of law. This book outlines a political theory of law guided by the idea of the social contract, according to which rights and legal relations as well as other key elements of legal reasoning are capable of being justified before equal citizens under the constraints of public reason.

Contains both conceptual analysis and detailed examination of caselaw and international and domestic laws by a leading practitioner.

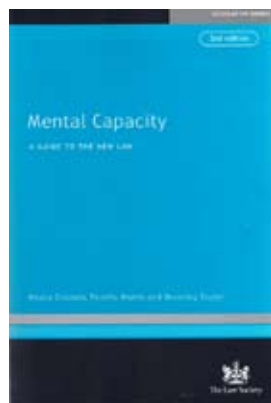

Grabham, Emily; Cooper, Davina; Krishnada, Jane; Herman, Didi, Intersectionality and Beyond: Law, Power and the Politics of Location, Routledge-Cavendish,

Paperback, £27.99, ISBN: 9780415432436

This collection addresses the present and the future of the concept of intersectionality within socio-legal studies. Intersectionality provides a metaphorical schema for understanding the interaction of different forms of disadvantage, including race, sexuality, and gender. But it also goes further to provide a particular model of how these aspects of social identity and location converge – whether at the level of subjectivity, everyday life, in culture or in the institutional practices of state and other bodies.

Greaney, Nicola; Morris, Fennella; Taylor, Beverley, Mental Capacity: A Guide to the New Law 2nd ed, Law Society Publishing,

Paperback, £49.95, ISBN: 9781853286797

Since Royal Assent, the Mental Capacity Act 2005 has been supplemented by regulations, supported by a Code of Practice, and strengthened with the ‘deprivation of liberty’ safeguards. Since the first edition, substantial regulations have been made to bring the Act into force.

lishers, Hardback, £62.00, ISBN: 9789004169746

Through recent modifications of Dutch (1992) and English (1999) private law, contracts for a third-party beneficiary are in Western Europe nowadays considered to be effective and enforceable. This concept is, however, incompatible with both the civilian tradition on the continent and the traditional parties-only rule of English common law. The purpose of this study is to show the way in which the problem of the third-party beneficiary was dealt with during the various periods of western legal thought and to discuss the subject from the perspective of present-day comparative law. The book is not only of interest for legal historians, but also for all who are engaged in present-day private law: scholars, practitioners and advanced students.

Klatt, Matthias, Making the Law Explicit: The Normativity of Legal Argumentation, Hart Publishing, Hardback, £45.00, ISBN: 9781841134918

At its centre the book addresses legal indeterminism and refutes linguistic-philosophical reasons for indeterminacy. It spells out the normative character of interpretation as emphasized by Raz and, with the help of Robert Brandom's normative pragmatics, it is shown that the relativism of interpretation from a normative perspective does not at all justify scepticism. On the contrary, it supports the claim that legal argumentation can be objective, and maintains that statements on

Schroeder, Jeanne Lorraine, The Four Lacanian Discourses or Turning Law Inside-Out, Birkbeck Law Press, Hardback, £70.00, ISBN: 9780415464826

This book proposes a taxonomy of jurisprudence and legal practice, based on the discourse theory of Jacques Lacan. In the anglophone academy, the positivist jurisprudence of H.L.A. Hart provides the most influential account of law. But just as positivism ignores the practice of law by lawyers, even within the academy, the majority of professors are also not pursuing Hart's positivist project. Rather, they are engaged in policy-oriented scholarship - that tries to explain law in terms of society's collective goals - or in doctrinal legal scholarship - that does not try to describe what law is, or to supply justifications for it - but which examines the 'internal' logic of law.

Sealy, Len S.; Hooley, Richard, Commercial Law: Text,

Simmonds, Nigel, Law as a Moral Idea, Oxford University Press, Paperback, £17.99, ISBN: 9780199552191

This book argues that the institutions of law, and the structures of legal thought, are to be understood by reference to a moral ideal. The idea of law is an ideal of freedom, or independence from the power of others. The moral value and justificatory force of law are not contingent upon circumstance, but intrinsic to its character as law. Doctrinal legal arguments are shaped by rival conceptions of the conditions for realisation of the idea of law.

Sinfield, Greg, The VAT and Property Guide 3rd ed, CCH Editions, Paperback, £65.00, ISBN: 9781847980076

A brand new edition of this established title, completely rewritten to reflect changes to the VAT and property rules including the anticipated new Schedule 10 to the VAT Act and recent case law. More fundamentally, there will be new material on every aspect of the option. In particular, there will be new rules on the duration of the option to tax, when it can be revoked, and what it affects.

This new work adds to the theoretical understanding and discussion of possible solutions to various conceptual and practical problems that arise within the field of medical negligence - an area whose legal treatment is perceived, both in England and Germany, as containing a number of special difficulties and shortcomings. In addition it seeks to make a contribution to the developing field of comparative law, by employing a detailed and closely focused analytical approach in a tightly defined subject area. These twin aims serve to reveal the similarities and differences between two legal cultures in a particularly clear and striking way.

Stockdale, Eric, The Man Who Shot the President and Other Lawyers, Wildy, Simmonds and Hill Publishing, Hardback, £14.95, ISBN: 9780854900299

In From Wig and Pen to Computer the author made brief references to his practice and wrote about his experience as a writer of articles and books on legal and allied topics. In the present book, The Man who Shot the President and other Lawyers he gives an amusing account of some of his more entertaining and interesting cases while at the Bar and on the Bench, coupled with revealing stories about some of his contemporaries in the law. Sir Mark Potter, in his Foreword, comments: 'This book is a treasure house of anecdote and reminiscence.' He goes on to describe it as 'a fascinating patchwork assembled from the varied fabric of a career at the Bar of a kind which has all but disappeared in the age of increased specialisation, followed by

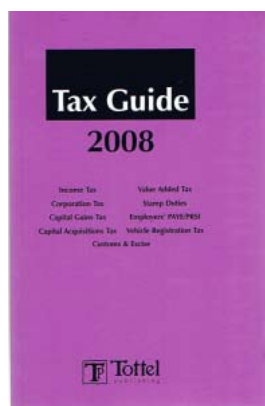

22 years as a humane and humorous Circuit Judge before whom advocates and litigants alike were treated with fairness, courtesy and consideration

Tian, Yijun, Re-Thinking Intellectual Property: The Political Economy of Copyright Protection in the Digital Era, Routledge-Cavendish, Hardback, £65.00, ISBN: 9780415465342

This book examines major problems in the current IPR regime, particularly the copyright regime, in the context of digitization, knowledge economy, and globalization. The book contends that the final goals of IP law and policy-making are to enhance the progress of science and economic development, and the use and even-distribution of intellectual resource at the global level. By referring to major international IP consensus, recent developments in regional IP forums and the successful experiences of various countries, Yijun Tian is able to provide specific theoretical, policy and legislative suggestions for addressing current copyright challenges.

A-Z format, written in a familiar user-friendly and accessible style.

Wareham, Robert; Dolton, Alan, Tolley's Value Added Tax 2008 Second edition only, LexisNexis Butterworths, Paperback, £104.95, ISBN: 9780754534808
Due to the ever-changing nature of VAT and the practitioner's need to have access to the most up-to-date information, Tolley's VAT annual second edition is published in September to include all the changes in the Finance Act.

Warren, Neil, Tolley's VAT Planning 2008-09, LexisNexis Butterworths, Paperback, £89.95, ISBN: 9780754534846

This practical guide for successful VAT Planning addresses the many VAT issues that practitioners encounter on a regular basis. Taking a transaction-based approach, the book outlines how to make the most of the various VAT provisions and schemes for all sizes of business.

Weiler, TJ Grierson, Investment Treaty Arbitration and International Law, Juris Publishing, Hardback, £89.00, ISBN: 9781933833187

This publication contains the papers and proceedings of Juris Conferences first annual conference on Investment Arbitration and reflects a trend that also exists in investment treaty arbitration: a coming together of the new and the familiar. The conference format included a group of ten 'up and coming' members of the treaty arbitration bar, who drafted the papers that appear in the chapters of this book.

Whish, Richard, Competition Law 6th ed, Oxford University Press, Paperback, £32.99, ISBN: 9780199289387

Richard Whish's Competition Law is the definitive textbook on this subject. The author's authoritative treatment of the area is matched by a lively and easy-to-follow writing style, making this book an indispensable resource for undergraduate and postgraduate law and economics students, as well as for practitioners and officials involved in competition law.

Wikeley, Nick; Williams, David, Social Security Legislation 2008 Volume IV - Tax Credits and Employer-Paid Social Security Benefits, Sweet & Maxwell Ltd, Paperback, £86.00, ISBN:

9781847037268

Sweet & Maxwell's popular social security legislation publications provide clear guides for using and applying current legislation. Each one is up-to-date to the crucial benefit date in April. Volume IV focuses on tax credits, Child Trust Funds and employer-paid social security benefit. The full text of all relevant statutory material is reproduced and is accompanied by comprehensive commentary.

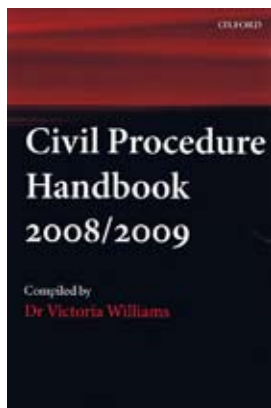

Wilcock, Rachel; Bull, Ray; Milne, Rebecca, Witness Identification in Criminal Cases: Psychology and Practice, Oxford University Press, Paperback, £34.99, ISBN: 9780199216932
Witness Identification in Criminal Cases provides an up-to-date review on identifying crime perpetrators based on psychological theory and research. Applying psychology to the area of criminal identification, the authors make reference to relevant legislation such as the PACE Codes of Practice as they explore the psychology involved in identification. This insightful and practical title will inform anyone interested in this area. The authors outline the psychological information relevant to constructing and delivering identification parades, such as the point of view of the suspect and witness or victim, how witnesses remember, and the factors likely to affect the accuracy of person descriptions. They also consider the effects of stereotypes and expectancies on identification performance, as well as a discussion of the technologies involved in identification procedure.

Williams, Victoria, Civil Procedure Handbook 2008/2009 5th ed, Oxford University Press, Paperback, £38.95, ISBN: 9780199548651

Keeping up-to-date and informed about the changes to the Civil Procedure Rules is important for practitioners and students alike. Allowing readers to do just that, this useful, quick reference book contains the full text of the Civil Procedure Rules, Practice Directions, and Pre-Action Protocols. Affordable, accessible and portable, this handbook is an ideal complement to the larger narrative texts in the area - a simple and effective way to access the rules quickly. The Civil Procedure Handbook 2008/2009 contains all Civil Procedure Rules, Practice Directions, and Pre-Action Protocols approved to 6 April 2008, including the 44th and 45th updates to the CPR.

Wilson, Martin; Bone, Steven, Capital Allowances: Transactions and Planning 2008/09, Tottel Publishing, Paperback, £106.82, ISBN: 9781847661173

This popular annual tax title

examines the technical aspects of capital allowances and similar tax reliefs on property and, in addition, brings together the issues most relevant to individual transactions. Focusing primarily on the corporate property transactions tax practitioners deal with on a regular basis, Capital Allowances: Transactions and Planning 2008/09 demonstrates how the tax payer can save money by maximizing capital allowances and related tax reliefs.

Wood, Penny; Poynter, Richard; Wikeley, Nick; Bonner, David, Social Security Legislation 2008 Volume II - Income Support, Jobseeker's Allowance, State Pension Credit and the Social Fund, Sweet & Maxwell Ltd, Paperback, £86.00, ISBN:

9781847037282

Sweet & Maxwell's popular social security legislation publications provide clear guides for using and applying current legislation. Each one is up-to-date to the crucial benefit date in April. This volume focuses on income related benefits, Jobseeker's Allowance, State Pension Credit and the Social Fund, combining the text of the legislation with useful commentary.

Woodman, Gordon R.; Klippel, Diethelm, Risk and the Law, Routledge-Cavendish, Hardback, £65.00, ISBN: 9780415471497

Natural and man-made risks have long been recognised as vital conditioning factors in the formation of social institutions and the conduct of social life. In this volume internationally recognised experts examine in detail the implications in practice of the modern concept of risk in particular legal fields. The chapters explore the ways in which the law in its many branches can accommodate, manage and reduce the extent of risk in the modern “Risk Society”, matters of pressing importance for the development of all branches of law in all jurisdictions.

Wouters, Jan; Nollkaemper, Andre; de Wet Erika, The Europeanisation of International Law: The Status of International Law in the EU and its Member States, T.M.C. Asser Press, Hardback, £50.00, ISBN: 9789067042857

International law has increasingly become a part of the EU legal order, and has thereby become Europeanised. Consequently, its application and interpretation by EU Member States is no longer solely a matter for their own constitutional order, but is also governed by EU law. This book addresses the effects of European integration on the position of public international law in the European Union and its Member States, illuminating critical questions pertaining to this triangular relationship. Are we dealing with the emergence of a distinct European system of public international law? To what extent do Member States actually recognise the effect of this ‘Europeanisation’ of international law? What role does the European Court of Justice play with respect to the application and interpretation of ‘Europeanised’ international law within the Member States.

To our best knowledge, all particulars are correct at the time of going to press. However, we regret that we cannot accept responsibility for any errors, and wish to advise readers that price and date of publication may be subject to change by the publishers concerned

Alistair MacQueen
1944-2008

It is with great sadness that we note the passing of our old friend Alistair MacQueen on the 19th of September while on holiday in Portugal with his family.

Alistair began in the booktrade with Foyles and then was involved in establishing the Parks bookshop chain (later sold to Blackwells) and in Financial Training Publications. In 1988 he was instrumental in the founding of Blackstone Press, which he ran until its sale to Oxford University Press in 2001. Subsequently Alistair became involved in the College of Law Publishing and several other activities relating to law publishing and bookselling.

Alistair was always “out and about” meeting law teachers and commissioning books. He regularly called in at the shop to seek advice or get our reaction to a new book idea. He will be missed by everyone here.

Our deepest sympathies go out to all who knew and worked with Alistair, as well as to his family.

first editors of Blackstone's Criminal Practice, along with John Sinkins, managing director of Wildy & Sons*

Douglas Hockin Pethick
1939 – 2008

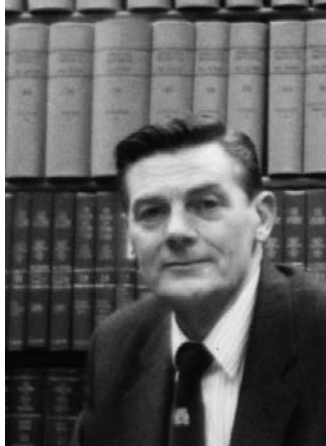

It is with great sadness that we note the passing of Douglas Hockin Pethick on August 26th 2008. Douglas was a former Managing Director of Wildy and Sons and the Father of our overseas sales manager John Pethick.

Douglas joined the company in 1966 carrying out general duties within the firm. He rose through the ranks and became a director of the company in the mid 70's. His main activity within the company was the buying and selling of Law Reports and other multi volume sets which was a major part of the business at that time and a role largely continued by his son John to this very day.

Douglas became Managing Director of Wildy and Sons in 1987 and remained in that position until he was forced to retire early due to ill health in 1994.

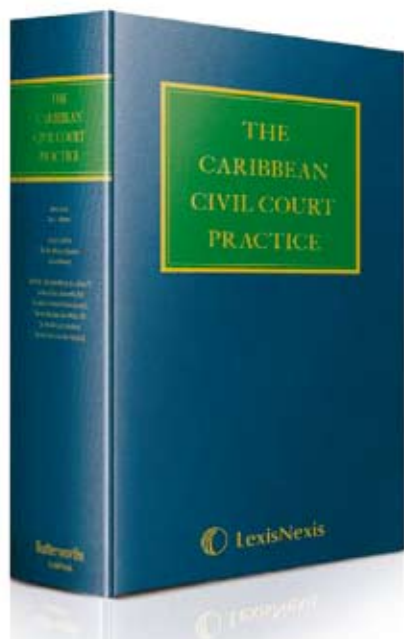

Douglas will be greatly missed by all of his colleagues that knew him and our many customers throughout the world.

WILDY'S TRIPS AROUND THE WORLD IN 2008

A chance to meet our representatives at conferences and other venues

October 12th – 17th John Sinkins & Steven Ross will be at IBA in Buenos Aires

November 21st – December 10th John Pethick will be in Hong Kong staying at the Wesley Hotel

NIGERIAN BAR ASSOCIATION CONFERENCE IN ABUJA

The Nigerian Bar Association Conference Abuja, 25th – 29th August 2008

Wildy's returned to Nigeria for the second time this year having previously attended the NBA Business Conference in March. Steven Ross, John Pethick and John Sinkins were there on behalf of the company. The August Conference was a far larger affair this time around as there were over 10,000 delegates in attendance. On both occasions we had been invited by Prince Adeyemi Adefulu, head of Odade publishers and Mafix Books and we are indebted to him and all his staff for their help and assistance during our stay.

The Conference was held at the National Conference Centre, but we were a little surprised to learn that all of the stands were to be outside in the open air. We also discovered that the stands were constructed from rough plywood and vaguely resembled giant rabbit hutches and that ours had not actually been built yet and wouldn't be unless we paid the workman for this task immediately! To our huge relief when we arrived on the Monday morning, our stand had finally been built, but we were warned to be careful of the interior walls as the thin coat of white emulsion was still wet!

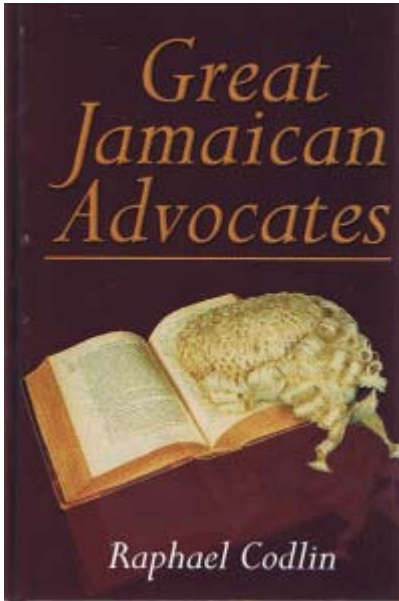

The problem with the stands being outside was twofold. The first being that we had to setup and pack up our books and displays every day, though we did manage to achieve this thanks to the friendly help and assistance of the staff from Mafix Books. They willingly loaded their van each evening and returned the next morning with our material. The second problem was that August is the rainy season in Nigeria (see the front cover) and boy did it rain! Each time the skies opened, we were forced to retreat backwards to take shelter against the conference building which thankfully, did have a protruding roof, but of course rain never seems to fall vertically! Fortunately armed with Wildy umbrellas, we stood like matadors fending off the raging torrent and nothing was damaged!

With so many delegates we were constantly busy, in fact by the third day we were seriously running low on stock! By the end of the week we had sold everything from our stand and had also sold many multi volume sets both new and second-hand from our stock lists that we had brought with us.

All in all this was probably our most successful international conference ever and we shall certainly be back again next year. Our hosts Odade Publishing and Mafix Books were always on hand to help with any unforeseen problems - nothing was too much trouble for them. They met us at the airport and drove us to and from the conference each day and treated us to several sumptuous dinners in the evenings. The kindness and courtesy extended to us throughout our stay was truly remarkable.

The only sad note to the entire trip was that John Pethick, our overseas sales manager received news on the Tuesday evening that his Father had passed away (see page 40). The genuine sympathy offered by all the Nigerian people who knew John was deeply touching. Even the hotel staff and the duty manager for British Airways (Nigeria) rose to the occasion and had John on the first plane home the next morning.

Great Jamaican Advocates

by

Raphael Codlin

ISBN 9789768125842

hardback

£45

Great Jamaican Advocates, like its precursor, Historical Foundations of Jamaican Law, brings new and exciting revelations to legal literature in Jamaica. Raphael Codlin examines the fascinating careers of five of the greatest advocates to have enriched the legal landscape of Jamaica:-

Winston Frankson
Ian Ramsay
Frank Phipps
Angela Hudson-Phillips
David Muirhead

As Codlin explains in his preface, he seeks here “to foster understanding and appreciation for the contributions that advocates make to the stabilization and civilized operation of society. Indeed, in today’s world... advocates ought no longer to confine themselves to performing their functions in court. Instead, they need to apply their knowledge and influence towards the greater good of mankind.”

The outstanding advocates honoured in this volume have met and surpassed this challenge.

IMPORTANT FORTHCOMING PUBLICATIONS

Pharmaceutical, Biotechnology and Chemical Inventions

Edited by Duncan Bucknell
Oxford University Press, Loose-leaf, ISBN 9780199289011, £395.00, due November 2008

This major new loose-leaf work provides comprehensive coverage of the intellectual property and patent law issues in the pharmaceutical, biotechnology and chemical industries. Written by a team of experts in the field from each territory covered, it provides valuable comparative analysis of the law in these sectors in a number of key jurisdictions. The loose-leaf highlights the special issues arising in obtaining, commercialising, enforcing or attacking intellectual property rights (including protection of regulatory data) in the pharmaceutical, biotechnology and chemical industries across the world's key jurisdictions. The first two chapters give a general introduction to the differences between the jurisdictions and an overview of some of the key concepts in patent law. The remainder of the loose-leaf is dedicated to analysis of the major legal issues arising in these areas of technology on a jurisdiction-by-jurisdiction basis. Each jurisdictional chapter has a comparative introduction, looking at the variances in the laws of different domains, followed by analysis of the relevant regime, including tables and flow-charts which summarise and explain the key legal concepts. The jurisdictions covered are the United States, Europe, Japan, Canada, Australia, India and China. The price of the main-work includes updates issued in the first year from date of purchase.

Solicitors and Money Laundering: A Compliance Handbook, 3rd Edition

by Peter Camp
Law Society Publishing, Paperback, ISBN 9781853287534, £59.95, due December 2008

The third edition of this bestselling guide to money laundering compliance takes account of significant developments in legislation and best practice. This invaluable text provides detailed commentary on anti-money laundering law and considers the impact of the introduction of Money Laundering Regulations 2007, which came into effect on 15 December 2007.

These impose wider administrative requirements on solicitors in relation clients' use of services. Also covered is the Law Society's Anti-Money Laundering Practice Note, issued on 22 February 2008. User-friendly and practical, this book advises solicitors on how to ensure compliance. A key feature of the book is a precedent for a basic money laundering manual that can be adapted to the firm's needs, saving time and helping to ensure compliance.

Pre-Nuptial and Cohabitation Agreements

by Nicholas Francis QC and Nicholas Bennett

Jordan Publishing, Paperback, ISBN 9781846610950, £60.00, due December 2008

In many jurisdictions, a pre-nuptial agreement is a legally binding, enforceable document. In England and Wales the courts historically considered them to be contrary to public policy because they sought to fetter the court's discretion; however more recently the courts have relaxed their objection to pre-nuptial agreements and have been prepared, in appropriate circumstances, to take account of their terms, together with the checklist of considerations in Matrimonial Causes Act 1973, s 25. Furthermore, in the aftermath of leading cases such as White and Miller & McFarlane, many high net worth spouses are keen to minimise the share to which their ex-spouse might be entitled in the event of divorce, and are therefore increasingly using pre-nuptial agreements. In Charman last year, the President of the Family Division raised the question whether parties to a marriage should have the opportunity to order their own affairs by a pre-nuptial agreement. Pre-Nuptial and Cohabitation Agreements provides the practitioner with comprehensive practical guidance on the law relating to such agreements; and upon their effectiveness, and the relevant case-law, when they are relied upon in subsequent ancillary relief proceedings. There are practical step-by-step drafting guides and a discussion of the pitfalls that advisers must attempt to avoid. An innovative addition to the book is a consideration of how pre-nuptial agreements are analysed in practice in certain foreign jurisdictions. Up-to-date descriptions of the position in the United States, Russia, and some European jurisdictions are included. As pre-nuptial agreements come to the fore in England and Wales, foreign experience will be all the more invaluable.

E-mail: Law, Practice and Compliance

by Stewart Room

Law Society Publishing, Paperback, ISBN 9781853285943, £69.95, due December 2008

The use of email continues to increase year on year, and it has brought with it a plethora of legal issues. This book focuses on the legal aspects of email use. It sets out the legal and technical background to current law and then explores specific areas in which significant issues have arisen, such as privacy; defamation; copyright; access regimes; criminal justice; and civil litigation. This practical guide includes full discussion of statutes and case law. The book is accompanied by a free website: www.emailandlaw.co.uk, which updates the content and provides commentary on new case law and developments.

Fiduciary Duties: Directors and Employees

by Andrew Stafford QC and Stuart Ritchie

Jordan Publishing, Hardback, ISBN 9781846610912, £155.00, due October 2008

The law relating to the fiduciary duties owed by directors and employees to companies is complex and involves several overlapping areas of law. It is, however, a relatively commonplace cause of action; individuals in positions of trust within a company are often tempted to abuse their position in order to steal company secrets, set up in competition, and poach staff and customers. Fiduciary duties have historically defied easy characterisation. This area of law as it relates to directors and employees is developing and complex. Directors and employees of companies acting out of self-interest have generated an increasing number of claims alleging breach of fiduciary duty. These claims range from conscious impropriety such as stealing company secrets, receiving bribes, acting in competition with the employer, to the grey area of exploitation of company property, information and opportunities, and to the even greyer area of preparations for future competition with the company. Breach of fiduciary duty can be unwitting but expensive. Fiduciary Duties: Directors and Employees draws together in one volume the law relating to fiduciary duties in this context and analyses both its historical origins and its modern application by the Courts. The book is aimed at commercial and employment lawyers. It provides a description of the present law and a discussion of the direction in which it might develop.

Oil and Gas Exploration Contracts, 2nd edition

by Anthony Jennings

Sweet & Maxwell, Hardback, ISBN 9781847037510, £265.00, due November 2008

This authoritative text provides a clause-by-clause review of the commercial agreements used in worldwide gas and oil exploration, and provides practical advice on the nature, use and terms of the contracts, enabling practitioners to advise on any stage of the exploration process. The new edition covers exploration joint venture agreements like joint bidding and joint study agreements, and includes coverage on drilling contracts, rig sharing agreements and rig assignments. It analyses agreements for the sale and purchase of exploration and production assets, and can be used in relation to any offshore exploration area worldwide. Anthony Jennings is a practitioner with wide experience working in this field, and he has written the book from a practical perspective, offering a valuable insight into the nature, purpose and consequences for each contract. Also included is a CD-ROM containing all the contracts within the book, which allows for easy and practical drafting with electronic versions of all the contracts.

Oil and Gas Production Contracts

Edited by Anthony Jennings
Sweet & Maxwell, Hardback, ISBN 9781847037503, £265.00, due December 2008

This new book provides a clause-by-clause review of the commercial agreements used in worldwide gas and oil production, and includes coverage of all contracts during the production phase. The book analyses each clause systematically to provide a thorough and detailed understanding of the meaning, and offers practical advice and guidance which can be applied to all jurisdictions worldwide. Background licensing and production sharing routines are explained, as well as exploration joint venture agreements like joint bidding and joint study agreements. It includes coverage on contracts for services with third parties, including production platform and FPSO construction and operating agreements, contracts for producing services, oil and gas processing agreements, oil and gas transportation agreements and pipeline tie-in agreements. Oil and gas sales contracts are examined, and agreements for the sale and purchase of exploration and production assets are analysed. Written from a practical perspective, offering a valuable insight into the nature, purpose and consequences for each contract, the book provides expert coverage on this area that cannot be found elsewhere. A CD-ROM containing all the contracts within the book is included, enabling easy and practical drafting with electronic versions of all the contracts.

The Rome II Regulation: A Commentary

by Andrew Dickinson

Oxford University Press, Hardback, ISBN 9780199289684, £145.00, due December 2008

Regulation (EC) No 864/2007 on the law applicable to non-contractual obligations (the so-called "Rome II Regulation") is the product of almost 40-years work by the institutions and Member States of the European Community. From 11th January 2009, it will introduce an entirely new set of rules for determining the law applicable to non-contractual obligations (including tort/delict, unjust enrichment and some equitable obligations). This work, written by an experienced practitioner, provides a user-friendly article-by-article commentary to assist practising lawyers in understanding the structure and practical application of the Regulation. The book also considers the background to, and treaty base, of the Regulation and its relationship to other EC instruments creating or affecting rules of private international law. Links to primary materials, news and updates will appear on the companion website at www.romeii.eu.

Commercial Enforcement 2nd edition

by Kit Jarvis and Andrew Lafferty

Tottel Publishing, Hardback, ISBN 9781847662903, £185.00, due December 2008

A unique and invaluable guide for all practitioners that advise on the enforcement of high-value money judgments, Commercial Enforcement provides systematic, practical guidance on the process of preparing for and successfully applying for the various methods of High Court enforcement. This text contains a detailed analysis of the legal issues and underlying case law surrounding each method of enforcement, providing essential background materials and commentary. The new edition reflects the development of the Effective Enforcement White Paper in the form of the Tribunals Courts and Enforcement Act 2007, and the The Court of Appeal's decisions in Masri v Consolidated Contractors International Co SAL [2008] EWCA Civ 303 and [2008] EWCA Civ 876 in respect of the appointment of a receiver in respect of foreign assets by way of equitable execution (distinguishing the House of Lords' decision in Société Eram), and in respect of CPR Part 71. Other cases included are Carnegie v Giessen [2005] EWCA Civ 191 on charging orders to secure an amount expressed in a foreign currency; AIG Capital Partners v Kazakhstan [2005] EWHC 2239 (Comm) and Westacre Investments v Yugoimport [2008] EWHC 801 (Comm) in respect of third party debt orders; and Gater Assets v Nak Naftogaz Ukrainiy [2008] EWHC 1108 (Comm), and Seventh Earl of Malmesbury v Strutt and Parker (a firm) [2008] EWHC 616 (QB) in respect of interest on judgments.

Private Sector Investment in Infrastructure: Project Finance, PPP Projects and Risk, 2nd Edition

By Jeffrey Delmon

Kluwer Law International, Hardback, ISBN 9789041127143, £103.00 due November 2008

Investment in infrastructure is critical to economic growth, quality of life, poverty reduction, access to education, good quality healthcare and achieving many of the goals of a robust and dynamic economy. But infrastructure is difficult for the public sector to get right. The private sector (through public-private-participation-PPP) can help; it can provide more efficient procurement (cheaper, faster and better quality), refocus infrastructure services on consumer satisfaction and life cycle maintenance, place the financial burden of providing infrastructure on consumers rather than taxpayers and provide new sources of investment, in particular through limited recourse debt (aka project financing). But PPP presents challenges of its own. This book provides a practical guide to PPP, how governments can enable and encourage PPP, how PPP financing works, what PPP contractual structures look like and most importantly how PPP risk allocation works in practice, including specific discussion of each infrastructure sector. The previous edition of this book was entitled Project Finance, BOT Projects and Risk.

Drafting Trusts and Will Trusts: A Modern Approach 9th edition

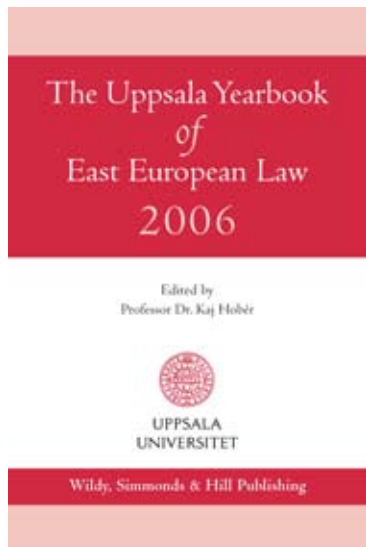

by James Kessler QC and Leon Sartin

Sweet & Maxwell, Hardback, ISBN 9781847035820, £120.00, due December 2008

This popular text explains the issues involved in drafting trusts and will trusts and offers an extensive selection of precedents designed to suit a wide range of trust requirements. Updated to take into account the introduction of transferable nil rate bands in the Finance Act 2008, which has entirely altered the basis of drafting wills, the new edition will help ensure practitioners can make the best tax planning judgements through the use of the correct trust. Written in an easy to understand style, the book explains the issues in drafting trusts and will trusts, the choices that have to be made and the issues that concern the settler and testator. It also covers all the technical issues involved in drafting settlements, common mistakes and traps, and which matters are essential and which may be safely omitted. An extensive selection of precedents, which are drafted in a straightforward and modern style to suit a wide range of trust requirements, are also included. Other recent changes covered in the new edition are the continuing impact of the Charities Act 2006; the repeal of nominal £5 stamp duty in the Finance Act 2008; and recent case law such as AN v Barclays Private Bank (no-contest clauses); Breakspear v Ackland (letters of wishes); and Phizackerley v HMRC (NRB trusts). A CD-ROM containing all the precedents within the book is also included, and updates are available through a companion website.

THE MAN WHO SHOT THE PRESIDENT AND OTHER LAWYERS

By
Eric Stockdale

ISBN: 9780854900299
Hardback 118pp
£14.95

In From Wig and Pen to Computer the author made brief references to his practice and wrote about his experience as a writer of articles and books on legal and allied topics. In the present book he gives an amusing account of some of his more entertaining and interesting cases while at the Bar and on the Bench, coupled with revealing stories about some of his contemporaries in the law. It is likely to prove an acceptable gift for law students, lawyers and laymen alike.

Sir Mark Potter, in his Foreword, comments: 'This book is a treasure house of anecdote and reminiscence.' He goes on to describe it as 'a fascinating patchwork assembled from the varied fabric of a career at the Bar of a kind which has all but disappeared in the age of increased specialisation, followed by 22 years as a humane and humorous Circuit Judge before whom advocates and litigants alike were treated with fairness, courtesy and consideration.'

For a limited period and when purchased together, The Man Who Shot the President and From Wig and Pen to Computer is being offered for the special price of £25

FROM WIG AND PEN TO COMPUTER REFLECTIONS OF A LEGAL AUTHOR

By
Eric Stockdale

ISBN: 9780854900220

Hardback 152pp

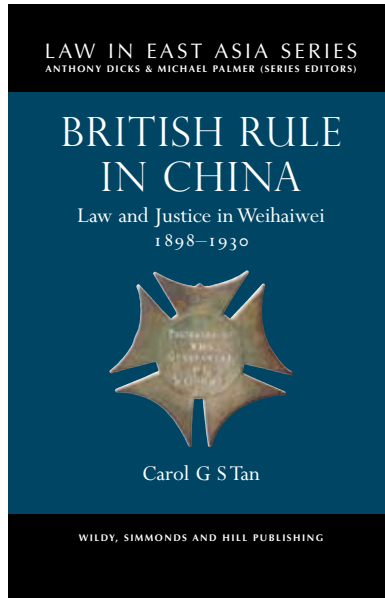

£14.95

Eric Stockdale left school at 14 and went to work in wartime London. After two years in the post-war Army he was called to the Bar at the age of 21 and appointed a Circuit judge shortly after his 43rd. birthday. He took early retirement at 65 and then heard Criminal Injuries Compensation appeals for ten years.

When he became a barrister in 1950 he was a young man with an unusual background, which included 'a pathetic attempt' (his words) to follow several relatives into journalism. After his failure to break into Fleet Street, Eric Stockdale decided to earn his living from chambers in the adjoining Temple. His ability to write led to the publication of many articles, followed by books on criminal justice and historical topics, culminating with two works inspired by the links of many leaders of the American Revolution with his own Inn of Court, the Middle Temple. As this book is about his experiences as a legal author, it also deals briefly with his life in the law and describes how he became interested in the different subjects about which he wrote.

Sir Igor Judge, in his Foreword, comments: 'This is a remarkable story by any standards,' and adds, 'much is written humorously.' The reader, whether lawyer or layman, is likely to concur with that judgment.

BRITISH RULE IN CHINA
LAW AND JUSTICE IN WEIHAIWEI 1898-1930

By Carol G. S. Tan

ISBN: 9780854900268
Hardback 348pp
£45

Written using official records and other sources, British Rule in China is the first systematic account of the legal history of Weihaiwei, a small territory leased by China to Britain in 1898. It is a fascinating and accessible account of the territory's constitution, laws, courts, judges and magistrates, penal policy, and police force. The book explores the various problems and controversies faced by the local authorities in administering justice as well as their attempts to resolve them. The author argues that, as originally conceived, Weihaiwei's legal system made few concessions to the fact that the territory remained a part of China yet, in practice and for reasons which are explored in the book, it integrated some aspects of Chinese institutions, law and custom. Given the centrality of the law, its institutions and its officials to the exercise of British jurisdiction, this work is a contribution not merely to colonial legal history but also to the history of this part of China under foreign rule.
