MAJOR NEW TITLES THIS MONTH

Agnew, Donald; Morris, Amanda, Neighbour Disputes: A Guide to the Law And Practice 2nd ed, Wildy, Simmonds and Hill Publishing, Paperback, £39.00, ISBN: 9780854900596

This book is a practical guide for those seeking to resolve disputes between neighbours who are at war with each other - whether it be about noise, overhanging branches, the position of a fence, or some other irritation that has sparked neighbour rage. It draws together the relevant strands of the law - on negligence, nuisance, misrepresentation, trespass, rights of way, boundaries, party walls, the right to light, trees and hedges, weeds and pests, waste water and drainage.

Ahdar, Rex; Aroney, Nicholas, Shari'a in the West, Oxford University Press, Hardback, £24.99, ISBN: 9780199582914

This is a collection of short essays written by distinguished and prominent scholars addressing the question of the accommodation of Shari'a within the legal systems of the liberal-democratic West. The matters raised in the two 2008 lectures provide a springboard for lively discussion, criticism and debate on both the specific question of religious/cultural accommodation by the law and the wider issues of multiculturalism, equality before the law and the desirability of parallel jurisdictions for particular faith communities.

Alpa, Guido, Markets and Comparative Law, British Institute of International and Comparative Law, Paperback, £50.00, ISBN: 9781905221462

Available for the first time in English, in this thought-provoking collection of essays Guido Alpa applies his cosmopolitan approach to current issues in European, private and commercial law. Covering a broad and diverse range of topics, he provides insights on the themes of harmonization, the relationship of the world's legal systems, and the influence of comparative law in the evolution of legal forms.

Andrew, Jill, Managing People in a Legal Business, Law Society Publishing, Paperback, £59.95, ISBN: 9781853288043

With the advent of Alternative Business Structures (ABSs), there is likely to be intensified competition in the recruitment and retention of legal talent. Managing People in a Legal Business contains invaluable guidance for law firms aiming for effectiveness and efficiency from their staff. Leading employment lawyers and HR professionals provide expert advice for both established firms and new entrants to the market. The book examines both legal and broader managerial issues, placing both firmly in the context of the modern legal business.

Baasch Andersen, Camilla; Francesco, Mazzotta; Zeller, Bruno, Practitioner's Guide to the CISG, Juris Publishing, Hardback, £115.00, ISBN: 9781933833378

With the growing complexity of international trade, practitioners in commercial law increasingly need access to scholarly sources and foreign case law. The Practitioner's Guide to the CISG is a direct answer to that need and a decisive step toward fulfilling that goal. Written by three scholars from six different countries, the book represents the best analyses of CISG cases available anywhere. The chapters that follow provide legal counsel with easy, organized access to key, legal case abstracts drawn from multiple jurisdictions and valuable, summary comments on each article of the CISG.

Barber, Nick, The Constitutional State, Oxford University Press, Hardback, £50.00, ISBN: 9780199585014

The Constitutional State provides an original analytical account of the state and its associated constitutional phenomena. This account reveals the importance of at least two forms of pluralism - legal and constitutional. It also casts light on some of the more difficult questions faced by writers on constitutions - such as the possibility of states undertaking actions and forming intentions, the moral significance of these actions for the people of the state, and the capacity of the state to carry responsibility for acts between generations.

on director's remuneration, and other financial reporting obligations.

Barden, Phil; Hall, Norma; Poole, Veronica; Rigelsford, Ken; Spooner, Andrew, Deloitte iGAAP 2011: IFRS Reporting in the UK, LexisNexis Butterworths, Hardback, 2 Volumes, £125.00, ISBN: 9780754539933

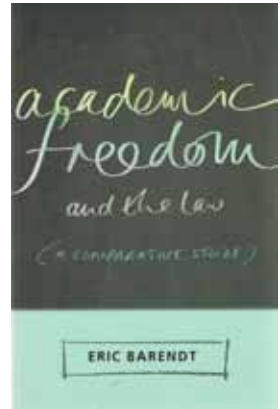

Now in two Volumes and containing full coverage of every IFRS, IAS and IFRIC with comparisons of the key differences with current UK GAAP, iGAAP 2011 is the definitive guide for UK listed and AIM listed companies. This title contains explanations of upcoming developments in international financial reporting including disclosures under UK legislation, regulations

Barden, Phil; Poole, Veronica; Hall, Norma; Deloitte iGAAP 2011: A Guide to IFRS Reporting, LexisNexis Butterworths, Hardback, £109.00, ISBN: 9780754539964

Focusing solely on standards and interpretations from the IASB and updated with the latest pronouncements, iGAAP 2011 is the definitive guide for the global application of IFRS. This practical book provides guidance and worked examples in a principles-based approach - all in a single volume!

Barendt, Eric, Academic Freedom and the Law: A Comparative Study, Hart Publishing, Paperback, £40.00, ISBN: 9781841136943

Academic Freedom and the Law: A Comparative Legal Study provides a critical analysis of the law relating to academic freedom in three major jurisdictions: the United Kingdom, Germany and the United States. The book outlines the various claims which may be made to academic freedom by individual university teachers and by universities and other higher education institutions, and it examines the justifications which have been put

Bates, Ed, Evolution of the European Convention on Human Rights, Oxford University Press, Hardback, £95.00, ISBN: 9780199207992

This book examines the story of the evolution of the Convention over its first 50 years (1948-1998). It reflects on the Convention's origins and charts the slow progress that it made over the 1950s and 1960s, before, in the late 1970s, the European Court of Human Rights delivered a series of landmark judgments which proved to be the foundation stones for the European Bill of Rights that we know today.

Bavasso, Antonio, Butterworths Competition Law Handbook 2010 16th ed, LexisNexis Butterworths, Paperback, £122.00, ISBN: 9781405749923

Published annually, Butterworths Competition Law Handbook is the essential work for all practitioners in the field of competition law. It is the most comprehensive single collection of UK statutory source material and official guidance on competition law.

Beale, Hugh, Chitty on Contracts 30th ed: 2nd Supplement, Sweet & Maxwell Ltd, Paperback, £99.00, ISBN: 9780414044814

The new 2nd supplement to the 30th edition of Chitty on Contracts updates the mainwork and the 1st supplement with the latest developments in key cases covering a variety of areas. These include:-

Berger, Bernhard; Kellerhals, Franz, International and Domestic Arbitration in Switzerland 2nd ed, Sweet & Maxwell Ltd, Hardback, £185.00, ISBN: 9781847035684

International and Domestic Arbitration in Switzerland is essential for anyone involved in an international or domestic arbitration in Switzerland. Fully updated and amended English second edition, including references to the new Swiss Code of Civil Procedure (CCP) which will take effect on January 1, 2011, this work brings together the law and practice of arbitration in Switzerland under and in connection with regulatory frameworks most commonly used.

Bernitz, Ulf; Ringe, Wolf-Georg, Company Law and Economic Protectionism: New Challenges to European Integration, Oxford University Press, Hardback, £75.00, ISBN: 9780199591459

This book presents timely research by a number of company law and EU law experts into this field of law. The chapters cover a broad range of topics, spanning from takeovers/mergers over the one share-one vote debate through to the foreclosure of markets against Sovereign Wealth Funds.

Brekoulakis, Stavros L, Third Parties in International Commercial Arbitration, Oxford University Press, Hardback, £125.00, ISBN: 9780199572083 international approach, this book is predominantly concerned with the impact of arbitration proceedings and arbitral awards upon third parties. The role of the third party has fast become a pervasive problem in the field of international arbitration, as parties not bound by an arbitral agreement are seen to be excluded from the process, even if they clearly maintain a legal or financial interest in a dispute between those persons who are bound by an agreement.

Adopting a comparative,

Brindle, Michael; Cox, Raymond, Law of Bank Payments 4th ed, Sweet & Maxwell Ltd, Hardback, £245.00, ISBN: 9781847035516

Law of Bank Payments 4ed provides analysis of the practical and legal problems that arise from the making of payments by and through banks. It examines the law relating to the entire range of payment methods currently in use in banking transactions, and defines what a payment actually is and looks at money payments.

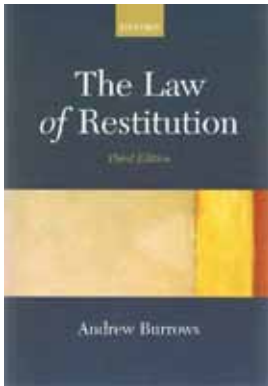

Buck, Trevor; Kirkham, Richard; Thompson, Brian, The Ombudsman Enterprise and Administrative Justice, Ashgate Publishing Ltd,

Hardback, £70.00, ISBN: 9780754675563

The statutory duty of public service ombudsmen (PSO) is to investigate claims of injustice caused by maladministration in the provision of public services. This book examines the modern role of the ombudsman within the overall emerging system of administrative justice and makes recommendations as to how PSO should optimize their potential within the wider administrative justice context.

Burrows, Andrew, The Law of Restitution 3rd ed, Oxford University Press, Paperback, £35.99, ISBN: 9780199296521

Wildy's Book of the Month - December 2010

This book continues to provide the reader with comprehensive coverage of the subject including detailed examination of intensely practical subjects such as subrogation, the limitation of action and conflict of laws. It also offers a detailed analysis of tracing and the debates concerning the 'knowing receipt' of property transferred in breach of trust, both of which have so perplexed practitioners and courts for the last two decades.

Butterworths, Butterworths Law Directory 2011, LexisNexis Butterworths, Hardback, £90.00, ISBN: 9781405751476

The Butterworths Law Directory is a fully indexed and comprehensive directory of UK solicitors, law firms and barristers in private practice, commerce, local government and public authorities.

Carty, Hazel, An Analysis of the Economic Torts 2nd ed, Oxford University Press, Hardback, £60.00, ISBN: 9780199546749

The economic torts for too long have been under-theorized and under-explored by academics and the judiciary alike. In recent years claimants have exploited the resulting chaos by attempting to use the economic torts in ever more exotic ways. This second edition, as before, attempts to provide practical legal research to both explore the ingredients of all these torts - both the general economic torts (inducing breach of contract, the unlawful means tort, intimidation, the conspiracy torts) and the misrepresentation economic torts (deceit, malicious falsehood and passing off) - and their rationales. And, as before, an optimum framework for these torts is suggested.

Casale, Giuseppe, The Employment Relationship: A Comparative Overview, Hart Publishing, Hardback, £30.00, ISBN: 9781841134208

The issue of who is or is not in an employment relationship has become problematic in recent decades as a result of major changes in work organization as well as in the adequacy of legal regulation in adapting to such changes. This book presents the way the scope of labour legislation applies to the realm of the employment relationship. Terms, notions, definitions, laws and practice in the various regions of the world are herein reported.

Ceteris; Heimert, A. Michael; Johnson, Michelle, Guide

to International Transfer Pricing: Law, Tax Planning and Compliance Strategies, Kluwer Law International, Paperback, £207.00, ISBN: 9789041131218

The pricing of goods and services within a multi-divisional organization, particularly in regard to cross-border transactions, has emerged as one of the most contentious areas of international tax law. This is due in no small measure to the rise of transfer pricing regulations as governments seek to stem the flow of tax revenue overseas, making the issue one of great importance to multinational corporations. This thoroughly practical work provides guidance on an array of critical transfer pricing issues. The guide's relevance is further enhanced by the inclusion of 11 country chapters covering domestic transfer pricing issues in a variety of key national jurisdictions.

Chehtman, Alejandro, Philosophical Foundations of Extraterritorial Punishment, Oxford University Press, Hardback, £70.00, ISBN: 9780199603404

This book provides the first full account, explanation, and critique of extraterritorial punishment in international law. Extraterritoriality is deeply entrenched in the practice of legal punishment in domestic legal systems and, in certain circumstances, an established principle of public international law. This book provides a convincing normative account of extraterritorial punishment. In doing so, it will steer current debates on international criminal justice and the philosophy of punishment in new directions, and link these debates to globalization, the emergence of transnational crime, terrorism, war, and the problem of impunity and mass atrocity.

Cheng, Chia-Jui, Customs Law of East Asia, Kluwer Law International, Paperback, £112.00, ISBN: 9789041133342

This timely work reflects the insights of an impressive array of experts and is designed to be a practical source of context and guidance. Readers will quickly discover it to be an indispensable tool to unravel many of the trade-related challenges and opportunities the region offers.

position and reflect the recent legal developments.

Crown, Giles; Bray, Oliver; Earle, Rupert, Advertising Law and Regulation 2nd ed., Bloomsbury Professional, Hardback, £125.00, ISBN: 9781845924515

This invaluable guide focuses specifically on advertising law and the myriad rules controlling the advertising industry. It covers all aspects of the law as it affects advertising, from European legislation and copyright law to libel and obscenity laws. It clearly explains the laws, statutes and self-regulatory codes that govern advertising and there are sections given to the specific issues affecting television, radio and cinema. The new second edition takes on a more practical and user-friendly structure, with updated and expanded coverage of contract law, breach of confidence, copyright and data protection.

Danov, Mihail, Jurisdiction and Judgments in Relation to EU Competition Law Claims, Hart Publishing, Hardback, £55.00, ISBN: 9781841136592

The book proves that as a result of the enhanced private antitrust enforcement reform, private international law has a vital role to play if EC competition rules are to be enforced effectively in court proceedings with an international element. To this end, the author makes a thorough analysis of how the post 2003 policy of the EC favouring private law enforcement of EC competition law can be implemented under the existing provisions for jurisdiction and recognition and enforcement of foreign judgments under the Brussels I regime.

Darcy, Shane; Powderly, Joseph, Judicial Creativity at the International Criminal Tribunals, Oxford University Press, Hardback, £70.00, ISBN: 9780199591466

This edited collection examines the specific contribution made by the judges of the Yugoslavia and Rwanda Tribunals to the development of international criminal law in the areas of substantive crimes, criminal liability, defences, general principles, fair trial rights, and procedure. The essays illuminate the law on these topics while pointing to key areas where the Tribunals have advanced the understanding of particular concepts and principles.

Several contributions address the theories of interpretation employed by the Tribunals' judges and the challenges presented by judicial creativity in international criminal trials.

Davies, F.G., Anthony and Berryman's Magistrates' Court Guide: 2011, LexisNexis Butterworths, Paperback, £79.00, ISBN: 9781405749909

This popular annual publication provides a complete picture of the law. Practical and easy to use, it is the single most important guide to all the activities of the magistrates' court, whilst its straightforward and concise coverage of new case law represents excellent value for money.

de Cendra de Larragán, Javier, Distributional Choices in EU Climate Change Law and Policy: Towards a Principled Approach?, Kluwer Law International, Hardback, £108.00, ISBN: 9789041133373

In greater depth than any previous legal study in the field, this book deals with the way in which the European Union (EU) has dealt with climate change and with the distribution of the benefits and costs of climate change mitigation policies among affected parties. With extraordinary thoroughness the author assesses the legality of choices made (particularly concerning mitigation targets and timelines), and examines the role that legal principles can play in the adoption, interpretation, and judicial testing of distributional choices.

His analysis of the tension between such choices and EU law is bolstered by an exploration of emerging legal principles which could provide additional guidance in this challenging and controversial area.

Dennys, Nicholas; Raeside, Mark; Clay, Robert; Hudsons, Hudson's Building and Engineering Contracts 12th ed, Sweet & Maxwell Ltd, Hardback, £350.00, ISBN: 9781847032041

Hudson's Building and Engineering Contracts has long been essential reading for construction lawyers and other construction industry professionals around the world. It provides a detailed overview of the law and interpretation of construction contracts in light of the practical and commercial realities of construction projects. The new 12th edition retains the structure and qualities of previous editions while being published in one, streamlined volume. It considers all key standard construction contracts, is comprehensible to non-legal professionals as well as lawyers and is relevant throughout the common law world, with coverage of case law from Australia, Canada, Hong Kong and the USA.

Denton, Jonathan, Practical Derivatives: A Transactional Approach 2nd ed, Globe Law and Business, Hardback, £140.00, ISBN: 9781905783410

Featuring updated chapters, this new second edition shows how derivatives are used in a variety of transactions, how the documentation works and why boards need to be aware of them. With contributions from leading law firms including Sidley, Davis Polk & Wardwell and Norton Rose, this accessible book takes a transactional approach and features coverage of new product innovations. These include equity and energy derivatives and the expansion of derivatives into new markets such as credit risk, weather risk and property. The book also features topical analysis on corporate governance and directors' duties; ISDA documentation (including coverage of GMRAs); collateral; close-out netting and structured derivatives.

Eastaway, Nigel; Richards, Ian; Garlick, David, Tax Advisers' Guide to Trusts 4th ed, Bloomsbury Professional, Paperback, £95.00, ISBN:

Taylor-made for tax practitioners, Tax Advisers' Guide to Trusts 4th ed demystifies the complex subject of trusts and explains the tax rules and the way in which trusts can be used in practice as a flexible and effective means of wealth accumulation and protection in an uncertain world. Examples and case studies are used throughout, to supplement and illustrate the text. This fourth edition has been updated to take account of the modernisation of trusts legislation contained in Finance Act 2006; HMRC's recent guidance on trust management expenses; developments on the settlement provisions arising from the Arctic Systems case; other key case law.

Edwards, Alice, Violence against Women under Inter- national Human Rights Law, Cambridge University Press, Hardback, £65.00, ISBN: 9780521767132

Since the mid-1990s, increasing international attention has been paid to the issue of violence against women; however, there is still no explicit international human rights treaty prohibition on violence against women and the issue remains poorly defined and understood under international human rights law. Drawing on feminist theories of international law and human rights, this critical examination of the United Nations' legal approaches to violence against women analyses the merits of strategies which incorporate women's concerns of violence within existing human rights norms such as equality norms, the right to life, and the prohibition against torture. Although feminist strategies of inclusion have been necessary as well as symbolically powerful for women, the book argues that they also carry their own problems and limitations, prevent a more radical transformation of the human rights system and ultimately reinforce the unequal position of women under international law.

England, Paul, Expert Privilege in Civil Evidence, Hart Publishing, Hardback, £45.00, ISBN: 9781841133034

This book provides an overview of the issues, cases and rules that feature in this complex area, with the touchstone of practicality kept very much in mind throughout. The order in which issues are discussed follows the process by which expert evidence is prepared, from instruction through to collateral use. The intended readership is solicitors and counsel practising in England and Wales in all the areas of civil, commercial litigation that use expert evidence. This book will also be of interest to practitioners in other common law countries and academics who are interested in English procedural law.

Etro, Federico; Kokkoris, Ioannis, Competition Law and the Enforcement of Article 102, Oxford University Press, Hardback, £95.00, ISBN: 9780199586189

With incisive and thought-provoking contributions from both leading academics and practitioners, this book addresses in detail the major areas in relation to the Commission Guidance Paper on Applying Article 82 of the EC Treaty (now Article 102). The paper has been at the centre of much of the recent debate on antitrust policy in Europe and has generated significant controversy and intense debate. The authors contend that the guidance from the Commission is on the one hand entirely justifiable in its focus on consumer harm in identifying what constitutes an abuse, but that on the other is not consistent enough in its message, nor indeed does it offer enough structural guidance on the practical application of the approach.

Evans, Adrian, Assessing Lawyers' Ethics: A Practitioners' Guide, Cambridge University Press, Paperback, £30.00, ISBN: 9780521764223

Legal practitioners operate in an environment of seemingly endless ethical challenges, and against a backdrop of diminishing public opinion about their morality. Based on extensive research, Assessing Lawyers' Ethics argues that lawyers' individual ethics can be assessed and measured in realistic frameworks. When this assessment takes place, legal practitioners are more likely to demonstrate better ethical behaviour as a result of their increased awareness of their own choices. This book advocates a variety of peer-administered testing mechanisms that have the potential to reverse damaging behaviours within the legal profession. It provides prototype techniques, questions and assessments that can be modified to suit different legal cultures. These will help the profession regain the initiative in ethical business practice, halt the decline in firms' reputations and reduce the risk of state-sponsored regulatory intervention.

Finizio, Steven; Speller, Duncan, A Practitioner's Guide to International Commercial Arbitration: Assessment, Planning and Strategy, Sweet & Maxwell Ltd, Softcover, £130.00, ISBN: 9780414043046

This book provides an essential hands-on guide for those who require practical and easily accessible advice. It deals with both the contractual arrangements necessary to provide for arbitration in the event of a dispute, and the process of the arbitration itself.

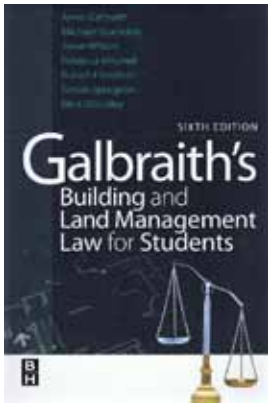

Ford, Michael; Clarke, Jonathan; Smart, Astrid, Redgrave's Health and Safety 2010 7th ed, LexisNexis Butterworths, Hardcover, £210.00, ISBN: 9781405750042

Now in its Seventh edition, Redgrave's Health and Safety is fully updated to contain the numerous legal developments in the health and safety field, both in the form of national legislation and case law. Fully annotated with helpful guidance notes and commentaries from the

Harding, Christopher; Joshua, Julian, Regulating Cartels in Europe 2nd ed, Oxford University Press, Hardback, £60.00, ISBN: 9780199551484

One of the most contentious and high-profile aspects of EU competition law and policy has been the regulation of those serious competition or antitrust violations now often referred to as 'hard core cartels'. Harding and Joshua provide critical evaluation of the way in which European-level regulation has evolved to deal with the activities of such anti-competitive business cartels. They trace the historical development of cartel regulation in Europe, comparing the more pragmatic and empirical approach favoured in Europe with the more dogmatic and uncompromising American policy on cartels.

Jansen, Sjaak, Fiscal Sovereignty of the Member States in an Internal Market: Past and Future, Kluwer Law International, Hardback, £104.00, ISBN: 9789041134035

Although EU Member States have retained national sovereignty in tax matters, a consistent line of decisions by the European Court of Justice requires them to exercise these powers consistent with superseding Community law. In other words, the Member States are not wholly autonomous. This in turn creates serious tensions. This timely resource covers a variety of critical issues, including the current and possible future effects of the internal market on the fiscal sovereignty of

Member States; the limits that European law imposes on Member States' policy sovereignty in matters of international tax law; the effect of European law on taxes levied by local authorities; and the consequences the Treaty of Lisbon may have for Member States' fiscal sovereignty.

Kalmo, Hent; Skinner, Quentin, Sovereignty in Frag- ments: The Past, Present and Future of a Contested Concept, Cambridge University Press, Hardback, £55.00, ISBN: 9781107000049

The political make-up of the contemporary world changes with such rapidity that few attempts have been made to consider with adequate care, the nature and value of the concept of sovereignty. What exactly is meant when one speaks about the acquisition, preservation, infringement or loss of sovereignty? This book revisits the assumptions underlying the applications of this fundamental category, as well as studying the political discourses in which it has been embedded. Bringing together historians, constitutional lawyers, political philosophers and experts in international relations, Sovereignty in Fragments seeks to dispel the illusion that there is a unitary concept of sovereignty of which one could offer a clear definition.

Kaminskaite-Salters, Giedre, Constructing a Private Climate Change Lawsuit under English Law: A Comparative Perspective, Kluwer Law International, Hardback, £80.00, ISBN: 9789041132536

The issue of tortious liability for harm caused by climate change has risen to some prominence in recent legal literature. However, except for a few U.S. cases, litigation in this area remains dormant in most jurisdictions. Now, in anticipation of the likelihood – and desirability – of such litigation, this ground-breaking study examines the extent to which a claim brought by a private, complex issues facing private enforcement of competition law in the EU.

Moody, Ken, Employment Related Shares and Unlisted Companies, Spiramus Press Ltd, Paperback, £49.95, ISBN: 9781907444371

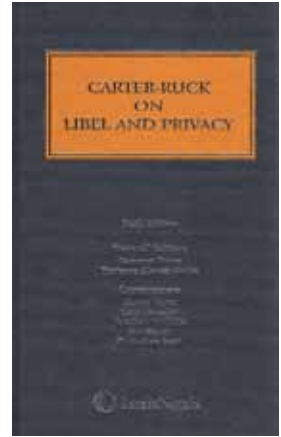

This book has needed writing since the current rules on employment-related securities were introduced in Finance Act 2003. Other works deal with tax-advantaged share and share option schemes but such schemes are typically of interest to the larger company. This book is written with unlisted, mainly private companies in mind and so, with one exception, deals with employee share acquisitions which do not benefit from any special tax advantages. The exception is the Enterprise Management Incentives (EMI) share option scheme, which is mainly for unlisted companies and so is covered in this book.

Mulcahy, Linda, Legal Architecture: Justice, Due Process and the Place of Law, Routledge, Hardback, £75.00, ISBN: 9780415575393

Legal Architecture addresses how the environment in which the trial takes place can be seen as a physical expression of our relationship with ideals of justice; as it approaches the history of courthouse design as a reflection of the troubled history of notions of due process. This fascinating and original book will be of interest to socio-legal or critical scholars working in the field of legal systems, legal method, the sociology of law, law and geography, evidence and human rights, as well as to architects.

Murphy, John, The Law of Nuisance, Oxford University Press, Hardback, £75.00, ISBN: 9780199214532

Providing a detailed overview of the law of nuisance this book addresses contentious issues such as the distinction between the rule in Rylands v Fletcher and the law of private nuisance; the law that excludes personal injuries from the remit of nuisance, and the relationship between public and private nuisance. The book also considers statutory nuisance and the extent to which it can be seen to exceed private and public nuisances as well as utility of nuisance as an environmental tort. This book provides the most up-to-date and comprehensive treatment of the law of nuisance, drilling down to distinctions between these different types of nuisance as well as examining in detail the overlaps between them.

Nafziger, James; Kirkwood Paterson, Robert; Dundas Renteln, Alison, Cultural Law: International, Comparative, and Indigenous, Cambridge University Press, Hardback, £90.00, ISBN: 9780521865500

Cultural law is a new and exciting field of study and practice. The core themes of linguistic and other cultural rights, cultural heritage, traditional crafts and knowledge, the performing arts, sports, and religion are of fundamental importance to people around the world, engaging them at the grass roots and often commanding their daily attention. The related legal processes are both significant and complex. This unique collection of materials and commentary on cultural law covers a broad range of themes. Opening chapters explore critical issues involving cultural activities, artefacts, and status as well as the fundamental concepts of culture and law. Subsequent chapters examine the dynamic interplay of law and culture with respect to each of the core themes.

ing target’) and comprises several layers of integration with varying geographical scope. Rather than casting the reader adrift in a sea of institutional and procedural detail, the authors underline the essential values, principles and objectives of the integration regime as well as its basic normative structure and hierarchy. In this context, the decentralised nature of the EU is highlighted as an integral part of its constitutional make-up. Recurring themes running through the book include European citizenship as well as fundamental rights and the rule of law. And, while stressing the basic values, principles and objectives of the EU, the book also confronts head-on the problems and challenges facing the Union and the gap which is often perceived between lofty ideals and harsh realities.

It is also useful for managers of companies that have to deal with issues involving excise duties.

Wolfrum, Rüdiger; Stoll, Peter-Tobias; Hestermeyer, Holger P., WTO - Trade in Goods, Martinus Nijhoff Publishers, Hardback, £125.00, ISBN: 9789004145665

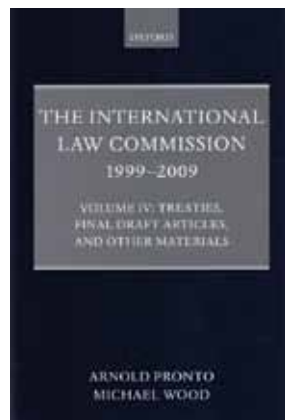

Trade in goods has been and still is the core of the worldwide trading system. The 1947 GATT is not only the origin of today's World Trade Organization, it also is - now as the GATT 1994 - the core agreement regulating trade in goods and the subject of numerous WTO disputes as well as a still growing volume of scholarly work. This volume will offer the first article-by-article commentary of the whole Agreement, featuring contributions by leading practitioners and scholars in the field.

Woods, Michael; Pronto, Arnold, The International Law Commission 1999-2009 Volume 4: Treaties, Final Draft Articles and Other Materials, Oxford University Press, Hardback, £125.00, ISBN: 9780199578979

This book continues the three-volume series edited by Sir Arthur Watts and published in 1999 and 2000. It contains the final product of the International Law Commission (ILC)'s work over the decade 1999-2008. The ILC's work is frequently cited by international and national courts, by governments, practitioners, and academic authors. The present volume includes the full text, and commentaries where applicable, of ILC texts adopted during the period under review, on such important topics as State responsibility, diplomatic protection, nationality in relation to the succession of States, unilateral acts of States, the fragmentation of international law, as well as several topics relevant to international environmental law, including prevention of transboundary harm from hazardous activities, international liability in case of loss from transboundary harm arising out of hazardous activities, and the law of transboundary aquifers. It further updates the existing series with the inclusion of a chapter on the United Nations Convention on Jurisdictional Immunities of States and their Property.

Yarwood, Lisa, State Accountability under International Law: Holding States Accountable for a Breach of Jus Cogens Norms, Routledge, Hardback, £70.00, ISBN: 9780415577830

This book considers the extent to which States are held accountable for breaches of jus cogens norms under international law. State Accountability under International Law sets forth a definition of State accountability and establishes a threshold against which the existence, or not, of State accountability can be determined. Using a Foucauldian influenced interpretive methodology, this book adopts a novel construction of State accountability as having legal, political and even moral characteristics.

Edited by Mark Kantor, International Arbitrator, Michael D. Nolan, Partner, Milbank, Tweed, Hadley & McCloy LLP, Adjunct Professor, Georgetown University Law Center, and Karl P. Sauvant, Executive Director, The Vale Columbia Center on Sustainable International Investment (VCC)

“OPIC has the institutional experience of resources to engage with the relevant legal principles at a level of sophistication which is occasionally superior to that of some states. When presented by three co-editors of this eminence, these volumes are a publishing event of importance”

Jan Paulsson, Partner, Freshfields Bruckhaus Deringer, Paris

This comprehensive two-volume work is the first work to make the underlying primary material available to the investment law, political risk and academic communities. With this extensive coverage all in one place, readers can access material quickly and easily.

Tribunal Practice

by Philip Coppel QC and Saima Hanif

Jordan Publishing, Hardcover, ISBN 9781846612169, £125.00, due March 2011

Tribunal Practice is a major new work on the practice and procedure of the new Tribunal system, established under the Tribunals, Courts and Enforcement Act 2007, including coverage of all chambers of the First-Tier and Upper Tribunal. It is an authoritative and comprehensive work on this topic, and takes into account the most recent changes to the tribunal system including the expansion of the General Regulatory Chamber, and the revision of the tribunal procedural rules. The book provides a step-by-step guide covering every practice issue that might arise before a Tribunal, from how to initiate an appeal, to seeking a witness summons. Each step is referenced to the relevant tribunal procedural rules, practice statement, practice direction and other material. The book contains unrivalled commentary from leading practitioners in the field, drawing on their extensive experience of tribunal and public law work, and the text of all the major statutes and statutory instruments in a consolidated form, along with annotations and references to the authors' narrative which consider the relevant provisions. All major Practice Directions, Practice Statements and Forms are also included.

The book is an affordable and authoritative one-stop-shop for all practitioners, Tribunal Members and Judges within the Tribunal system, combining expert analysis with access to the latest version of the core materials.

Intellectual Property and Private International Law 2nd edition

by James J. Fawcett and Paul Torremans

Oxford University Press, Hardcover, ISBN 9780199556588, £195.00, due January 2011.

Intellectual property has traditionally been regulated on a territorial basis. However, the protection and commercial exploitation of intellectual property rights such as patents, trademarks, designs and copyright occurring across borders are now seldom confined to one jurisdiction. This book considers how the introduction of a foreign element inevitably raises potential problems of private international law, ranging from establishing which court has jurisdiction and which is the applicable law to securing the recognition and enforcement of foreign judgments. The Internet has brought a significant increase in the scale of this phenomenon and valuable new chapters have been added to this edition to reflect this. Nationally protected trademarks are now used globally on websites and copyright material is distributed, communicated and copied in a world without borders. Patents have already been licensed on a transnational basis for several decades. All this raises questions of jurisdiction and applicable law. The well-respected and expert author team address such questions as; which court will have jurisdiction to deal with the issues arising from intellectual property rights and their exploitation in an international context? And which national law will the court with jurisdiction apply? Private international law questions increasingly arise and the two disciplines that previously operated in different spheres are increasingly obliged to cooperate. Although such issues are becoming increasingly important, a dearth of literature exists on the subject. Fawcett and Torremans remedy that neglect and provide a systematic and comprehensive analysis of the topic that will be welcomed by practitioners and scholars alike. This book is part of the Oxford Monographs in Private International Law series, the aim of which is to publish work of high quality and originality in a number of important areas of private international law. The series is intended for both scholarly and practitioner readers.

Adverse Possession 2nd edition

by Stephen Jourdan and Oliver Radley-Gardner Bloomsbury Professional, Hardcover, ISBN 9781847663726, £140.00, due January 2011.

The new edition of Adverse Possession has been extensively revised and updated to take account of legislation and case law including Land Registration Rules 2003, Adjudicator to Her Majesty's Land Registry (Practice and Procedure) Rules 2003 and Land Registration (Referral to the Adjudicator to HM Land Registry) Rules 2003. This book uniquely deals with the subject in detail, providing a full treatise on the law, referring to both English and Commonwealth authorities. It also examines the various issues of principle and practice which arise including title, meaning and elements of possession, the running of time, estoppel and human rights considerations.

Commercial Property Litigation

by James Fieldsend and Paul McAndrews

Jordan Publishing, Hardcover, ISBN 9781846612572, £95.00, due February 2011.

Commercial Property Litigation is a new authoritative handbook for property litigators. It combines an analysis of the relevant substantive law and procedure with practical know-how focusing on common issues and problems faced by the property litigator. The authors' explanatory commentary is supported by expertly drafted precedents, checklists, and extracts from key pieces of legislation and procedural rules, which are contained on an accompanying CD-Rom providing easy access to these time-saving precedent materials. Commercial Property Litigation will ensure that practitioners can be confident of having the relevant knowledge and clear guidance on the practice and procedure on how to deal with these difficult subjects.

Image and Publicity Rights: Exploitation and Legal Control

by Gillian Black

Hart Publishing, Hardcover, ISBN 9781849460545, £45.00, due January 2011.

Academics and practitioners are currently divided on the issues involved in permitting and regulating the commercial exploitation of publicity. 'Publicity' is the practice of using an individual's name, image and reputation to promote products or to provide media coverage, often in gossip magazines and the tabloid press. This book provides a theoretical and multi-jurisdictional review of the nature of publicity practice and its appropriate legal regulation. The book includes a detailed exploration of the justifications advanced in favour of publicity rights and those that are advanced against. Removing the analysis from any one jurisdiction the book examines current academic and judicial perspectives on publicity rights in a range of jurisdictions, drawing out similarities and differences, and revealing a picture of current thinking and practice which is intellectually incoherent. By then clearly defining the practice of publicity and examining justifications, the author is able to bring the nature and shape of the right of publicity into much sharper focus. The book includes a careful consideration of possible limits to any right of publicity, the potential for assigning publicity rights or transferring them post mortem, and whether defences can be offered. The author concludes by arguing for a publicity right which provides a degree of protection for the individual but which is significantly curtailed to recognise valid competing interests, such as the public interest. This is a work which will be of interest to academics and practitioners working in the field of publicity, privacy and intellectual property.

International Tax Handbook 3rd edition

by Nexia International Bloomsbury Professional, Softcover, ISBN 9781847665591, £110.00, due January 2011.

This truly indispensable guide from Nexia International condenses the key rates, reliefs and tax facts from 80 regimes into one essential guide. Written by Nexia members based in the relevant tax regime, it is an accessible and user-friendly first point of reference for accountants, tax advisers, policy-makers, investors looking at opportunities overseas and anyone considering living or working abroad. Each chapter covers a single jurisdiction and includes information on legal forms, corporate tax, personal tax, withholding tax and indirect taxes. Each country-specific chapter is organised and presented in the same format and style. The chapters are organised alphabetically by country which ensures readers can quickly find the information they need on a specific country.

Concise European Trademark and Design Law

Edited by Charles Gielen and Verena von Bomhard Kluwer Law International, Hardcover, ISBN 9789041124074, £136.00, due January 2011.

This new book aims to offer the reader a rapid understanding of the provisions of trademark and design law in force in Europe. It provides article-by-article commentary on the relevant European directives and regulations in the field of trademark and design rights, and gives short and straightforward explanations of the principles of law to be drawn from each provision. The contributors are all prominent specialists (academics and practitioners) in the field of European and international trademark and design law.

LAG Legal Aid Handbook 2011

Edited by Vicky Ling and Simon Pugh

Legal Action Group, Softcover, ISBN 9781903307847, £40.00, due January 2011

This new book is the only comprehensive single-volume guide to the civil and criminal legal aid scheme. Full of case studies, checklists and practical hints (such as how to get paid), it is the ultimate quick reference guide to conducting legal aid work and managing contracts. It is the perfect companion to the LSC Manual. The content is laid out to make it easy to navigate, with clear guidance, extensive cross-referencing and signposting of the latest developments.

Public Procurement and the EU Competition Rules

by Albert Sánchez Graells
Hart Publishing, Hardcover, ISBN 9781849460668, £85.00, due February 2011.

Public procurement and competition law are both important fields of EU law and policy, intimately intertwined in the creation of the internal market. Hitherto their close connection has been noted, but not closely examined. This new work is the most comprehensive attempt to date to explain the many ways in which these fields, often considered independent of one another, interact and overlap in the creation of the internal market. In this process of convergence between competition and public procurement law, the need for this joint study is clearly apparent. As such the book asks whether competition law principles inform or condition public procurement rules, and whether they are adequate to ensure that competition is not distorted in markets where public procurement is particularly significant. The book moves away from the classical focus of public procurement on the activities of private actors, developing instead an analytical framework for the appraisal of the market behaviour of the public buyer from a competition perspective. The analysis is both legal and economic. Proceeding through a careful assessment of the general rules of competition and public procurement, the book constantly tests the efficacy of the rules in competition and public procurement against a standard of the proper functioning of undistorted competition in the market for public procurement.

Intellectual Property and Competition Law: New Frontiers

Edited by Steven Anderman and Ariel Ezrachi
Oxford University Press, Hardcover, ISBN 9780199589951, £95.00, due January 2011

In recent times, commercial activities of companies exercising market power through their intellectual property rights have increasingly come under the scrutiny of the EU competition authorities. Intellectual Property and Competition Law: New Frontiers looks at how the leveraging strategies of Microsoft, the patent enhancement strategies of Astra Zeneca and Rambus, and the reverse payment settlements in the pharmaceutical sector have all attracted competition intervention, and how the courts have been forced to decide whether intellectual property issues are the primary subject matter of the case, or peripheral to that.

Drawing on these judgments, and others, this timely book brings together leading figures from practice and from academia who examine the increasingly complex and often strained relationship between intellectual property and competition law. Focusing primarily on EU law, but with valuable insight into US law, they highlight areas where new frontiers are emerging in the interface between the two, including; refusal to grant access to trade secrets; the new product test in consumer welfare; competition law in the pharmaceutical sector; standard setting; and FRAND (Fair, Reasonable and Non-Discriminatory terms) commitments. The book also considers the way in which the Commission's proposed changes to the application of Article 102 EC may impact on the protection of intellectual property rights. In the post-Microsoft litigation era, this timely book captures the range of current thinking on the subject. The impressive list of contributors brings together leading figures from academia and practice, from intellectual property and competition law, and from law and economics, offering unrivalled expert analysis of this complex area.

Price:	£39
Edition:	2nd edition
ISBN:	9780854900596
Extent:	290pp.
Size:	229 x 152 mm
Binding:	Paperback

This book is a practical guide for those seeking to resolve disputes between neighbours who are at war with each other – whether it be about noise, overhanging branches, the position of a fence, or some other irritation that has sparked neighbour rage. It draws together the relevant strands of the law – on negligence, nuisance, misrepresentation, trespass, rights of way, boundaries, party walls, the right to light, trees and hedges, weeds and pests, waste water and drainage. Written by solicitors with many years’ experience of dealing with such disputes, it contains practical hints to hasten resolving difficulties, while recognising the desirability of restoring harmony between the disputing parties. It provides an insight into some of the many powers of the local authorities – to deal with noise, for example – which may be invoked to bring to an end the behaviour complained of. The importance of seeking to settle a dispute without having to resort to litigation is a theme running through the book, as is the ever-vexing question of costs.

Formerly a partner, Donald Agnew is now a consultant with Blake Laphorn, and has considerable experience in all types of dispute concerning land. He is a member of the Property Litigation Association.

Amanda Morris is a partner at Blake Laphorn, where she heads up the property litigation team “She has a deservedly good reputation and fine legal brain”- Chambers UK, A Guide to the Legal Profession 2010 – and she is a member of the Property Litigation Association.

The Mysterious Death of Sir Thomas Overbury: A Jacobean Mystery in Fourteen Acts

Brian Harris

Price: £19.99
ISBN: 9780854900770
Extent: 232 pp
Size: 229 x 152 mm
Binding: Hardback

Little attention was paid at the time to the death in the Tower of London of Sir Thomas Overbury, but it was not long before foul play was suspected. Two years later six people went to the gallows for his murder in a case which was said to involve wizardry, love potions, coded letters and a poisoned enema. Following them into the dock were the most glamorous couple at the court of King James.

The husband, who was widely rumoured to be the King's lover, was convicted of Overbury's murder despite his protestations of innocence; but was he actually guilty? His pretty young wife confessed to the murder; but did she actually commit the crime? And the Lord Chief Justice was convinced that the case had a far wider and more sinister significance than appeared on the surface, possibly involving the suspicious death of the Prince of Wales.

Despite an exhaustive inquiry conducted by England's most feared prosecutor, the whole truth never came to light; even the official report of the trials is suspect. In this entertaining account of one of the most sensational crimes in English history, Brian Harris re-evaluates the evidence and proposes a new solution to this intriguing Jacobean mystery.

Brian Harris QC is a writer and legal consultant. Previous books include Intolerance: Divided Societies on Trial (Wildy, Simmonds and Hill, 2008), Injustice: State Trials from Socrates to Nuremberg (Sutton Publishing, 2006) and The Literature of the Law (Blackstone, 1998).

Brian Harris, a contemporary lawyer of distinction, has deployed his forensic skills in seeking to unravel a celebrated seventeenth century murder mystery; his may not be the last word on a topic which has engaged generations of scholars but his theatrical format and analytical insight carry the reader forward with him on an entertaining journey

and Newspaper Makers

Price:	£24.95
ISBN:	9780854900800
Extent:	192 pp.
Size:	234 x 156mm
Binding:	Paperback

The primary purpose of this book is to inform the debate on the future of copyright in the digital age: a professional resource for those seeking information on the importance and value of Copyright to the UK's Creative Industries and to promote understanding of the importance of those industries and their reliance on their ability to 'own' intellectual property through copyright legislation. The book contains articles and submissions by leading industry practitioners, lawyers and academics with practical experience of the importance of Copyright in the UK as well as those at the 'sharp end' as publishers and producers. It reflects the challenges to be faced with the development of the digital usage of copyright material as well as tracking the Stationers' 450 years of involvement in the development of copyright, enshrined in law by the Statute of Anne 300 years ago.

The Stationers' Company is the City of London Livery Company for the visual and graphic communications industries. The Company was founded in 1403 when the manuscript writers and illuminators formed a guild, taking the name 'Stationers' from the fact that they had stopped being itinerant vendors and had set up fixed stalls in St Paul's Churchyard. At the end of the 15th century when printing first came to England, the Stationers had the good sense to embrace the new technology. The guild received a Royal Charter in 1557 in which they were given a monopoly in printing and the responsibility to check and register all books produced in England. Today the Company has over 800 members, the vast majority of whom are senior executives in the complete range of trades within the visual and graphic communications industries, from paper, print, publishing, packaging, office products, newspapers, broadcasting and online media. Membership is drawn from across the UK and increasingly throughout the world and now includes major companies as well as individual members. The Company still uses Stationers' Hall for the purpose for which it was built 350 years ago: to bring together the major players in our associated industries so that they can enjoy each other's company, learn from one another, swap ideas and together develop strategies for the future of an industry that is vital to global economic growth. Activities range from formal dinners, informal lunches, lectures, seminars and intimate round-table sessions to online reports and discussion fora.

Binding: Hardback

Priscilla Coleman has been drawing court scenes for over 20 years. The pictures collected here mark many of the most important trials of that period. There is a widespread misunderstanding among those who see pictures on TV or in the newspapers that an artist can sketch as much as they like in court. As lawyers know, far from taking a palate and easel into the public gallery, any attempt at photography, drawings or visual representations is strictly verboten. Artists have to memorise in court the colours, shades, clothing, facial mannerisms and physical idiosyncracies then go out and draw a likeness from memory . . . against the clock.

Priscilla Coleman was born in Chilton, near Waco Texas and went to high school in Chilton and Huntsville before studying fine art and graphics at Sam Houston State University, Texas. Inspired by her mother Henrietta, a talented fashion illustrator and portrait painter, Priscilla is driven by a love of drawing people. She approached ITN with a video tape of her electronic news graphics and court drawings from her time with Channel 13 and KTRK TV in Houston where she was art director for news, and was hired straight away. Her first sketch was of Jeffrey Archer and Monica Coghlan in the notorious High Court libel trial.

Paul Cheston is the courts correspondent of the London Evening Standard. He was born in Aberdare, Mid Glamorgan and educated at Kimbolton School and the University of East Anglia. He covered his first court case for the Diss Express and, after training on the Middlesbrough Evening Gazette, came to Fleet Street to work for the Press Association. He joined the short-lived London Daily News and was in court on the final day of the Jeffrey Archer libel trial when owner Robert Maxwell closed the paper down. After brief work for the Daily Star and Sunday Express he joined the Evening Standard as a general news reporter. He was appointed courts correspondent in 1993 and is co-author of Brothers in Blood published in 1994.

A PRACTITIONER'S GUIDE TO WILLS
3d edition

Lesley King, Keith Biggs and Peter Gausden

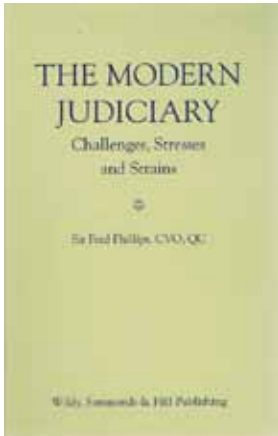

Consulting Editor: Meryl Thomas

Price: £59
ISBN: 9780854900725
Extent: 502 pp.
Size: 29 x 152 mm
Binding: Hardback & CD-ROM

The third edition of this popular title provides a practical and comprehensive reference for all those concerned in drafting and interpreting wills, and in giving effect to their provisions. The commentary is supported throughout by an extensive range of specimen clauses and model wills are provided in a separate appendix. All precedent material is included on the accompanying CD-Rom, enabling practitioners to adapt precedents for their own use.

Fully updated, A Practitioner's Guide to Wills features a new chapter on the use of Pilot Trusts and deals with the Mental Capacity Act 2005, Charities Act 2006 and Perpetuities and Accumulations Act 2009. It examines the impact of the legislative changes in recent years to tax planning, notably the new capital gains tax regime and the radical changes to the IHT treatment of trusts, particularly those affecting provision in wills for spouses and civil partners and children. The impact on planning and drafting is also considered, together with the role that the nil rate discretionary trust might still have to play in financial planning notwithstanding the introduction of the transferable nil-rate band between spouses and civil partners. The chapter on testamentary capacity has been fully revised in the light of the Mental Capacity Act 2005 and its effect on the application of the Banks v Goodfellow test as considered in recent cases including Re Perrins, Re Ritchie and Key v Key.

Lesley King is a solicitor, and a principal lecturer at the College of Law. Keith Biggs was formerly District Probate Registrar at Winchester, and is now a consultant on common form probate. Peter Gausden was formerly a principal lecturer at the College of Law. He is now a consultant solicitor at Rowlinsons. Meryl Thomas is Professor in Property Law at Birmingham City University, and Visiting Professor in Succession at the Institute of Law in Jersey

ISBN: 9780854900671
Extent: 302pp
Size: 229mm x 152mm
Binding: Hardback

This book examines the vocation of being a judge. It covers training, discipline and removal of judges as well as their position in the broader context as law-makers and servants of society.

The book is both comparative and practical while also examining the theory and jurisprudence of judging. It is full of practical examples drawn from the author's extensive experience and numerous contacts within the judiciary around the world. It examines their relationship to the societies they are representing and answerable to and their position and responsibilities as part of an international judicial brotherhood.

Although based in the Caribbean, the author is well known throughout the Commonwealth and in the United States as a writer on constitutional law and ethics.

Sir Fred Phillips is the former Governor, St. Kitts/Nevis/Anguilla and a Barrister-at-Law and member of the Middle Temple. He is the author of six books on constitutional law and ethics of the legal profession

LEGAL RESEARCH: A Practitioner's Handbook

Peter Clinch with contributions by James Mullan

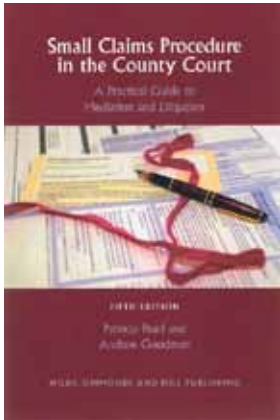

Price:	£39
ISBN:	9780854900640
Extent:	450 pp
Size:	246 x 189mm
Binding:	Hardback

This comprehensive reference is specifically aimed at busy practitioners (solicitors, barristers and professional support lawyers), particularly those who do not have the benefit of access to a law librarian or information officer. Legal Research: A Practitioner's Handbook provides practical advice on every aspect of effective legal research: problem analysis, selecting and finding the best sources, and presenting results effectively.

Part A covers problem identification and analysis, followed by advice on how to select the best sources and formats (paper or electronic) for research. Part B deals with the information most frequently sought by practitioners, listing sources with analytical comments and, for a selection of the most complex, 'how to use' instructions developed to a standard template. Jurisdictional coverage includes England, Wales, Scotland, Northern Ireland and the European Union, with the addition of information on key sources in European human rights and international law. Part C details sources on how to make the presentation of the results of legal research more effective.

Peter Clinch is Senior Subject Librarian for Law at Cardiff University and has trained law students, practising solicitors and law librarians in legal research skills. He devised and runs the award-winning Cardiff Index to Legal Abbreviations.

James Mullan is Knowledge Management Systems Manager for Field Fisher Waterhouse LLP. Previously he was an Information Officer at CMS Cameron McKenna LLP. He is a member of the British & Irish Association of Law Librarians (BIALL) council.

SMALL CLAIMS PROCEDURE
IN THE COUNTY COURT (5ed)
A Practical Guide to Mediation and Litigation

Patricia Pearl and Andrew Goodman

Price: £19.99
ISBN: 9780854900527
Extent: 309pp.
Size: 152mm x 229mm
Binding: Paperback

Legal professionals rarely receive any formal training or guidance on how to run a small claims case in the county court, while litigants in person often have to conduct such cases without legal representation. A lack of understanding of the rules frequently leads to confusion and mistakes, which in turn adds to expense and causes delay. The fifth edition of this popular title (formerly entitled Small Claims Procedure: A Practical Guide) will prove invaluable for busy practitioners and litigants in person alike, equipping them with the latest know-how on avoiding errors and making the most of the procedures that are available.

The mediation section of the book has special prominence in this edition. Litigants using the small claims track can now agree to have their cases diverted to a mediation service run by the Courts service and at no additional charge. The system has been in operation now for over a year and has proved popular with court users, especially litigants in person. This book sets out the scheme in detail together with practical tips on how to make the best use of this new service.

Updating material in this edition has been significant; of particular importance are the clarified rules on the date upon which court proceedings are served and the material which must be included in letters before action and other pre-action steps. Finally, the book has been made even more user friendly by improved cross-referencing, handy tables and an extensive glossary.

3d edition

John Bowers QC and Eleena Misra

Price: £29
ISBN: 9780854900510
Extent: 116 pp.
Size: 216 x 138mm
Binding: Paperback

Formerly published as part of the popular Practice Notes series, Procedure in Civil Courts and Tribunals provides an accessible guide to litigation in the County or High Court, as well as providing a useful overview of some specialist tribunals e.g. the Employment Tribunal. Of particular interest to practitioners will be the chapter on appeals which includes up-to-date guidance on the applicable rules and practice direction, together with practical advice on appellate advocacy.

In addition to providing practical and comprehensive guidance on civil litigation, the authors give valuable insights into written and oral advocacy, witness statements and affidavits, case preparation and courtroom skills. Presented in a compact, user-friendly format, Procedure in Civil Courts and Tribunals also contains an array of helpful checklists which will prove invaluable to the busy practitioner.

John Bowers QC is one of the leading employment barristers in the UK, practising from Littleton Chambers. He has written over fifteen books, and is a frequent contributor to the Law Society Gazette, New Law Journal and Industrial Law Journal. He is a Recorder on the Midland Circuit and a former Chair of the Employment Law Bar Association.

Eleena Misra is an employment and commercial law specialist at Littleton Chambers. She is the co-author of Employment and Equal Opportunities (Atkin's Court Forms) and has contributed to several other employment law titles.

PARTNERSHIP AND LLP LAW

Elspeth Berry

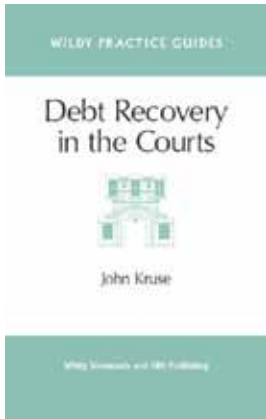

Price:	£29
ISBN:	9780854900602
Extent:	183 pp.
Size:	216 x 138mm
Binding:	Paperback

This book contains a mass of legal and practical information within a compact, user-friendly format. It provides a comprehensive and comparative explanation of the law relating to all three types of business partnership available under English law; general partnerships, limited partnerships and LLPs. Partnership and LLP Law explains the applicable law from formation of the business to termination, including chapters on the availability or otherwise of legal personality, duties of partners and members, management issues, property and finance, taxation, litigation and insolvency. It includes coverage of the Limited Liability Partnerships (Application of Companies Act 2006) Regulations 2009, which adapt and apply the provisions of the Companies Act 2006 to LLPs; and the Legislative Reform (Limited Partnerships) Order 2009, which introduces key reforms to limited partnership law.

The law relating to each of the three types of partnership is set out clearly and concisely to enable the reader to understand, or refresh their understanding of partnership and LLP law. This approach will also enable those with knowledge or experience of one type of partnership to understand the similarities and differences of the other types. A sample partnership/ LLP agreement is included within the book.

Elspeth Berry is a Senior Lecturer in Law at Nottingham Law School, with over fifteen years of experience in researching partnership and LLP law and teaching undergraduate and postgraduate students the law of business organisations and other commercial and international subjects. She is the co-author of European Union Law (2007) and Partnership Law (1999).
